Preislamic Coinage Estrn Arab:

Arab-Byzantine Relations in Early Islamic Times Michael Bonner, 2017-09-08 The Byzantine Empire was the Islamic commonwealth's first and most stubborn adversary For many centuries it loomed large in Islamic diplomacy military operations and commerce as well as in Islamic representations of the world in general Moreover the ways in which early Muslims and Byzantines perceived one another both polemically and otherwise afterwards proved decisive for the mutual perceptions between the Islamic world and Christian Western Europe For these and other reasons Arab Byzantine relations have been a major concern of modern scholarship on early Islam for well over a century Arab Byzantine Relations in Early Islamic Times presents some of the most important of these contributions organized according to the following themes war and diplomacy frontiers and military organization polemics and images of the other exchange influence and convergence and martyrdom jihad and holy war An introductory essay discusses these themes within the contexts of early Islamic society politics and economy

Routledge Handbook on Early Islam Herbert Berg, 2017-08-10 The formative period of Islam remains highly contested From the beginning of modern scholarship on this formative period scholars have questioned traditional Muslim accounts on early Islam The scholarly fixation is mirrored by sectarian groups and movements within Islam most of which trace their origins to this period Moreover contemporary movements from Salafists to modernists continue to point to

Islam's origins to justify their positions This Handbook provides a definitive overview of early Islam and how this period was understood and deployed by later Muslims It is split into four main parts the first of which explores the debates and positions on the critical texts and figures of early Islam The second part turns to the communities that identified their origins with the Qur'an and Muhammad In addition to the development of Muslim identities and politics of particular focus is the relationship with groups outside or movements inside of the umma the collective community of Muslims The third part looks beyond what happened from the 7th to the 9th centuries CE and explores what that period the events figures and texts have meant for Muslims in the past and what they mean for Muslims today Not all Muslims or scholars are willing to merely reinterpret early Islam and its sources though some are willing to jettison parts or even all of the edifice that has been constructed over almost a millennium and a half The Handbook therefore concludes with discussions of reimaginings and revisions of early Islam and its sources Almost every major debate in the study of Islam and among Muslims looks to the formative period of Islam The wide range of contributions from many of the leading academic experts on the subject therefore means that this book will be a valuable resource for all students and scholars of Islamic studies as well as for anyone with an interest in early Islam

The Eastern Frontier Robert Haug, 2019-06-27 Transoxania Khurasan and Ukhraistan which comprise large parts of today's Central Asia have long been an important frontier zone In the late antique and early medieval periods the region was both an eastern political boundary for Persian and Islamic empires and a cultural border separating communities of sedentary farmers from pastoral nomads Given its peripheral location the history of the eastern frontier in this period has often been shown through the lens of expanding empires However in this book Robert Haug argues for a pre-modern Central Asia with a discrete identity a region that is not just a transitory space or the far flung corner of empires but its own historical entity From this locally specific perspective the book takes the reader on a 900 year tour of the area from Sasanian control through the Umayyads and Abbasids to the quasi-independent dynasties of the Tahirids and the Samanids Drawing on an impressive array of literary numismatic and archaeological sources Haug reveals the unique and varied challenges the eastern frontier presented to imperial powers that strove to integrate the area into their greater systems This is essential reading for all scholars working on early Islamic Iranian and Central Asian history as well as those with an interest in the dynamics of frontier regions

The New Muslims of Post-Conquest Iran Sarah Bowen Savant, 2013-09-30 How do converts to a religion come to feel an attachment to it The New Muslims of Post-Conquest Iran answers this important question for Iran by focusing on the role of memory and its revision and erasure in the ninth to eleventh centuries During this period the descendants of the Persian imperial religious and historiographical traditions not only wrote themselves into starkly different early Arabic and Islamic accounts of the past but also systematically suppressed much knowledge about pre-Islamic history The result was both a new Persian ethnic identity and the pairing of Islam with other loyalties and affiliations including family locale and sect This pioneering study examines revisions to memory in a wide range of cases from Iran's imperial and administrative heritage to the Prophet Muhammad's stalwart Persian companion Salman al Farisi and to memory of Iranian scholars, soldiers and rulers in the mid seventh century
