Personal Styles In Early Cycladic Sculpture:

Personal Styles in Early Cycladic Sculpture Pat Getz-Gentle, 2001-11-26 Getz Gentle an independent scholar has seen many of the examples that exist in the course of her career studying Cycladic sculpture She presents in this volume a catalog of Cycladic sculpture which she has organized into stylistic categories based on formal analysis The methods she used to arrive at her conclusions as well as her theory of how the sculptures were produced are discussed at length Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Personal Styles in Early Cycladic Sculpture Pat Getz-Gentle, Jack de Vries, 2001 Annotation Personal Styles in Early Cycladic Sculpture represents the culmination of thirty five years of study Pat Getz Gentle offers here much new material and many fresh insights into a tradition rooted in the Neolithic period that spanned most of the third millennium B C She begins with a review of this tradition placing particular emphasis on the stages leading to the reclining figure with folded arms that is the unique and quintessential icon of the early Bronze Age culture at the center of the Aegean She then focuses on the styles of fifteen sculptors several of whom are identified and discussed for the first time in this volume By introducing little known pieces attributable to these sculptors she illuminates various phases of their artistic development BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Early Cycladic Sculpture in Context Marisa Marthari, Colin Renfrew, Michael J. Boyd, 2017-01-04 The sculpture of the early bronze age Cyclades has been systematically studied since the time of Christos Tsountas at the end of the 19th century But that study has been hampered by the circumstance that so many of the subsequent finds come from unauthorized excavations where the archaeological context was irretrievably lost Largely for that reason there are still many problems surrounding the chronology the function and the meaning of Early Cycladic sculpture This lavishly illustrated and comprehensive reassessment sets out to rectify that situation by publishing finds which have been recovered in controlled excavations in recent years as well as earlier finds for which better documentation can now be provided Using the material from recent excavation projects and drawing on the papers presented at a symposium held in Athens in 2014 it is possible now to undertake a fresh overview of the entire body of sculpture from the Cycladic islands which has been found in secure archaeological contexts Beginning with early examples from Neolithic settlement sites and extending into a consideration of material found in later contexts the 35 chapters are divided into sections which examine sculpture from settlements cemeteries and the sanctuary at Kavos concluding with a discussion of material techniques and aspects of manufacture

Early Cycladic Sculpture in Context from beyond the Cyclades Marisa Marthari, Colin Renfrew, Michael J. Boyd, 2019-12-31 This second volume on Early Cycladic and Cycladicising sculptures found in the Aegean examines finds from mainland Greece along with the rarer items from the north and east Aegean with the exception of those discovered in the Cyclades covered in the preceding volume and of those found in Crete The significance of these finds is that these are the principal testimonies of the influence of the Early Bronze Age Cycladic cultures in the wider Aegean This influence is shown both by the export of sculptures produced in the Cyclades and made of Cycladic marble and of their imitations produced elsewhere in the Aegean usually of local marble They hold the key therefore to the cultural interactions developing at this time the so called international spirit manifest particularly during the Aegean Early Bronze II period This was the time when the foundations of early Aegean civilisation were being laid and the material documented is thus of considerable significance The volume is divided into sections wherein contributions examine finds and their archaeological social and economic contexts from specific regions It concludes with an overview of the significance and role of these objects in Early Bronze Age societies of the Aegean and eastern Mediterranean region This will be the first time that this material has been systematically gathered together Highly illustrated it follows and builds on the successful preceding volume Early Cycladic Sculpture in Context Oxbow 2016

Early Cycladic Sculpture Pat Getz-Preziosi, 1995-01-12 First published in 1985 this ground breaking book surveys the development of Cycladic sculpture produced by unidentified artists who worked in the Aegean islands forty five hundred years ago Illustrated with numerous objects from American collections with particular emphasis on some two dozen pieces in the Getty Museum this volume surveys the typological development of Early Cycladic sculpture and identifies where possible the work of individual sculptors Newly revised and updated this book is a concise introduction to the field

Anthropomorphic Figurines from the Neolithic and Early Bronze Age Aegean Maria Mina, 2008 This work focuses on the study of gender in the Neolithic and Early Bronze Age EBA periods in the Aegean seeking to explore the ways in which gender was dynamically constructed enacted and negotiated through daily interactions and practices in early prehistoric communities through systematic analysis of anthropomorphic figurines of the Neolithic and EBA Aegean The present study critically reviews earlier interpretations but more importantly explores the resulting implications for the understanding of the Neolithic and EBA societies of the Aegean It detects fluctuating patterns of gender dynamics but the observations are also compared diachronically in order to investigate rhythms of social development or episodes of stasis in societies taken to represent different cultural traditions Ultimately the findings serve to reassess social models that have been proposed for the explanation of the Neolithic and EBA periods in the Aegean in terms of unilinear or fluctuating rhythms of social development
