The Aesthetics of Clarity and Confusion Geoffrey A. Baker, 2016-12-22 What should literature with political aims look like This book traces two rival responses to this question one prizing clarity and the other confusion which have dominated political aesthetics since the late nineteenth century Revisiting recurrences of the avant garde experimentalism versus critical realism debates from the twentieth century Geoffrey A Baker highlights the often violent reductions at work in earlier debates Instead of prizing one approach over the other as many participants in those debates have done Baker focuses on the manner in which the debate itself between these approaches continues to prove productive and enabling for politically engaged writers This book thus offers a way beyond the simplistic polarity of realism vs anti realism in a study that is focused on influential strands of thought in England France and Germany and that covers well known authors such as Zola Nietzsche Arnold Mann Brecht Sartre Adorno Lukács Beauvoir Morrison and Coetzee

German Film & Literature Eric Rentschler, 2013-10-15 First Published in 1986 This collection of essays by an international team of scholars is the first sustained investigation in any language of the historical interactions between German film and literature It is a book about adaptations and transformations about why filmmakers adapt certain material at certain times The major impetus at work is the desire to expand the field of adaptation study to include sociological theoretical and historical dimensions and to bring a livelier regard for intertextuality to the studies of German film and literature It is concerned with the ways in which filmmakers in Germany from Pabst and von Sternberg to Fassbinder Herzog and Sanders Brahms have engaged and been engaged by literary history The Works of Peter Handke David N. Coury, Frank Pilipp, 2005 Since his now famous appearance on the literary stage in 1968 novelist playwright and poet Peter Handke has remained on the forefront of the literary vanguard having earned the praise and recognition of critics in Europe and North America alike In fact in a review essay of September 2000 The New York Review of Books called him the premier prose stylist in the German language and one of post war Europe s most recognisable literary figures Since the publication of his early theatrical works Handke has gone on to publish over twenty five prose novels as well as additional works for the theatre collections of poetry diaries and essays His works have ranged in style from the French influenced nouveau roman of the late 1960s to works characteristic of the New Subjectivity movement in West Germany in the 1970s while his novels and stories of the 1980s and 1990s exhibited a new found appreciation for narrative and issues of storytelling He has also published a series of polemical essays on the war in Yugoslavia which have been criticised severely by scholars and intellectuals has written as well as on the thematic aspects of his work Peter Handke and the Postmodern Transformation Jerome Klinkowitz, James Knowlton, 1983 In 1966 Peter Handke disturbed the world of German letters with the publication of his first novel and with his attacks on the complacency of German language writers and their audiences Since then Handke an Austrian whose works include drama poetry and critical theory as well as fiction has become a leading European figure in the internationally established postmodern movement Klinkowitz and Knowlton survey Handke s progress as a writer concentrating on his novels to determine whether his creativity has been exhausted by his persistent assault on the systems that underlie conventional fiction drama and poetry By placing Handke s work in the tradition of Gabriel Garc a M rquez s magic realism and Donald Barthelme s innovative fictions the authors demonstrate that postmodern writers can create works of art in which content is effaced and the process of composition assumes increasing importance Indeed in so doing Handke has made that process as humanly interesting and as fictionally dramatic as any stories of The Great Tradition he has learned to address the human condition within the limits of a rebellious aesthetic The lesson of the postmodern transformation Klinkowitz and Knowlton argue is that the abstraction of content is not a loss instead it leads directly to the most essential human concerns New Subjectivity and Prose Forms of Alienation Linda C. DeMeritt, 1987 German literature of the 1970 s has earned the label New Subjectivity due to a shift in emphasis from political persuasion to an interest in the subject and a more personal engagement This book presents concepts of New Subjectivity and a discussion of its relevance concentrating on the experience of alienation as its thematic and formal departure point The investigation centers on the prose of prominent new subjective authors and details in particular the transition from fear to happiness in Peter Handke s works and the theme of love in Botho Strauss s prose Peter Handke Garvin H. C. Perram, 1992 The genesis of Peter Handke s controversial poetics is investigated through an examination of key Elfenbeinturm essays and ORF B cherecke manuscripts in which Handke s early literary preoccupations were most evident From this a coherent and comprehensive view of the theoretical foundations of his literary concerns and practice emerges This is followed by a detailed analysis of characteristic elements present in Handke's early narrative prose texts Die Hornissen Der Hausierer Die Angst des Tormanns beim Elfmeter Wunschloses Unglück and the collection of short stories Begründung des Aufsichtsrats This investigation of the early texts reveals a common triadic relationship between the highly intrusive foregrounding of the narrative constituent of these texts the manner in which the literary reality is realized and their central thematic concern Handke's rather enigmatic and somewhat neglected early prose works are made very much more accessible through the insights afforded by this book

Monatshefte, 1946 The Postmodernist Allegories of Thomas Pynchon Deborah L. Madsen, 1991 This study of all the major narrative works of Thomas Pynchon V The Crying of Lot 49 Gravity's Rainbow Vineland and his early fiction is an attempt to describe the narrative mechanisms that produce the uncertainty and ambiguity noted by all of Pynchon's critics These critics have analyzed the dynamic uncertainties of Pynchon's texts in terms of cybernetics thermodynamics Rilke Weber Jung all terms that are offered by the fiction itself The generic concept of postmodernist allegory allows the critic to speak from a position outside the text and allows us to see that ambiguity and indeterminacy are the effects produced by the way in which the text is constructed Modern Drama Scholarship and Criticism 1981-1990 Charles A.

Carpenter, 1997 A selective list of publications for the period offering some 25 200 entries no annotations arranged by nationality and linguistic groups Most entries concern literary currents in drama since the last third of the 19th century playwrights who lived at least part of their lives in the 20th century noted directors and performance theory For students and scholars of modern dramatic literature While annual supplements of recent publications appear in the journal Modern Drama new compilers took a publication date of 1991 as their starting point for listings leaving some 2 000 items collected after 1992 appearing only in this volume Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Kärntner Bibliographie
