Data Elicitation for Second and Foreign Language Research Susan M. Gass, 2007 The Role of Formal Features in Second Language Acquisition Juana M. Liceras, Helmut Zobl, Helen Goodluck, 2008. This edited volume dealing with formal features in Second Language Acquisition is defined within current generative grammatical theory such as the Principles and Parameters Theory and the Minimalist Program. Formal features are essential to any account of language acquisition because they are basic components of lexical and functional categories. This is a subject of much current research as evidenced by the number of published articles in journals and in conference proceedings. This is what the editors say. While L2 acquisition is the focus of our volume, the papers address the role of features in the current versions of generative grammar and explore the role of features for learnability theory as it relates to native and non-native acquisition. To our knowledge, the volume represents the first scholarly contribution specifically devoted to features in language acquisition. There are many generativists in SLA, including our two series editors Susan Gass and Jacquelyn Schachter. When asked if the formalist bias will be a big detraction, Jacquelyn said: 'The formal features book will definitely be formalist in tone.'

Differential Effects of Attention in Second Language Acquisition of Verb-noun Collocations Ye Fan, 2005 Current Index to Journals in Education, 1992 Research Design and Methodology in Studies on L2 Tense and Aspect M. Rafael Salaberry, Llorenç Comajoan, 2013-03-22. Research Design and Methodology in Studies on Second Language Tense and Aspect provides an up-to-date review of past and current methodologies for the study of the L2 acquisition of tense and aspect. More specifically, the book addresses the following issues related to the design of studies for research in tense and aspect: Theoretical frameworks e.g. Are research questions investigated within one theoretical approach incompatible with other approaches? Elicitation procedures: Do different types of tasks elicit different types of tense/aspect data? Coding of data e.g. How are lexical categories defined and coded? Data analysis e.g. What statistical tests are more appropriate to analyze language data? The volume provides new insights into the study of L2 tense/aspect by bringing together well-renowned scholars with experience in the research design of research in this area of the field.
