Places Of The Soul Architecture And Environmental Design As Healing Art:

Places of the Soul Christopher Day, 2007-07-11 Revised to incorporate the changes in opinions and attitudes since its first publication the second edition of Places of the Soul has brought Christopher Day's classic text into the 21st century This new edition of the seminal text reminds us that true sustainable design does not simply mean energy efficient building Sustainable buildings must provide for the soul For Christopher Day architecture is not just about a building's appearance but how the building is experienced Places of the Soul presents buildings as environment intrinsic to their surroundings and offers design principles that will open the eyes of the architecture student and professional alike presenting ideas quite different to the orthodoxy of modern architectural education Christopher Day's experience as an architect self builder professor and sculptor have all added to the development of his ideas that encompass issues of economic and social sustainability commercial pressures and consensus design This book presents these ideas and outlines universal principles that will be of interest and value to architects builders planners and developers alike Places of the Soul Christopher Day, 2017-09-19 For Christopher Day architecture isn't just about the appearance of buildings but how they're experienced as places to be in Occupants experience can differ radically from designers intentions as their concerns and thinking differ Additionally multi sensory ambience spatial sequential experience and embodied spirit resonate in the human soul Sustainable design means much more than energy efficiency if sustainable buildings don't also nourish the soul occupant building interaction will lack care and eco technologies won't be used efficiently This major revision of his classic text builds on more than forty years of experience ecological design across a range of climates cultures and budgets and 25 years hands on building Treating buildings as environments intrinsic to their surroundings the book explores consensus design economic and social sustainability and how a listening approach can grow architectural ideas organically from the interacting sometimes conflicting requirements of place people and situation This third edition comprehensively revised to incorporate new knowledge and address new issues continues Day's departure from orthodox contemporary architecture offering eye opening insights and practical design applications These principles and guidelines will be of interest and value to architects builders planners developers and homeowners alike Reviews of the first edition one of the seminal architecture books of recent times Professor Tom Wooley Architects Journal The bible of many architects and those interested in architecture Centre for Alternative Technology an inspiration to all those who care about the influence of the environment on Man's health and well being Barrie May The Scientific and Medical Network At last an architect has written a sensitive and caring book on the effects of buildings on all our lives Here's Health This gentle book offers a route out of the nightmare of so much callous modern construction I was inspired Colin Amery The Financial Times Places of the Soul Elsevier Science & Technology, 2004-06 Thinking Architecturally Paul Righini, 2000 Through a critical study of issues such as order form space style place making aesthetics and architectural theory students are encouraged to think about their own creative ideas

The use of analytical reasoning lateral thinking drawing and modelling is emphasised      Spirit and Place Christopher Day, 2012-06-14 Built environment surrounds us for 90% of our lives but only now are we realising its influence on the environment our health and how we think feel and behave both individually and socially Spirit how to moderate climate to make places of delight and realign social pressures so places both support society and maximise economic viability Thought provoking and easy to understand Christopher Day uses everyday examples to relate his theories to practice and our experience      Human Factors in Architecture, Sustainable Urban Planning and Infrastructure Alicja

Maciejko, 2025-07-26 Proceedings of the 16th International Conference on Applied Human Factors and Ergonomics and the Affiliated Conferences Orlando Florida USA 26 30 July 2025      Living Architecture, Living Cities Christopher Day, Julie Gwilliam, 2019-11-08 It is widely accepted that our environment is in crisis Less widely recognized is that three quarters of environmental damage is due to cities the places where most of us live As this powerful new book elucidates global sustainability is therefore directly dependent on urban design In Living Architecture Living Cities Christopher Day and Julie Gwilliam move beyond the current emphasis on technological change They argue that eco technology allows us to continue broadly as before and only defers the impending disaster In reality most negative environmental impacts are due to how we live and the things we buy Such personal choices often result from dissatisfaction with our surroundings As perceived environment has a direct effect on attitudes and motivations improving this can achieve more sustainable lifestyles more effectively than drastic building change with its notorious performance gap limitations As it is in places that our inner feelings and material reality interact perceived environment is place based Ultimately however as the root cause of unsustainability is attitude real change requires moving from the current focus on buildings and technology to an emphasis on the non material Featuring over 400 high quality illustrations this is essential reading for anyone who believes in the value and power of good design Christopher Day's philosophy will continue to inspire students with an interest in sustainable architecture urban planning and related fields      Socially Restorative Urbanism Kevin Thwaites, Alice Mathers, Ian Simkins, 2013-08-22 The need for a human orientated approach to urbanism is well understood and yet all too often this dimension remains lacking in urban design In this book the authors argue for and develop socially restorative urbanism a new conceptual framework laying the foundations for innovative ways of thinking about the relationship between the urban spatial structure and social processes to re introduce a more explicit people centred element into urban place making and its adaptation Focusing on this interplay between humans and the built environment two new concepts are developed the transitional edge a socio spatial concept of the urban realm and Experiemics a participative process that acts to redress imbalances in territorial relationships defined in terms of the awareness of mine theirs ours and yours MTOY In this way Socially Restorative Urbanism shows how professional practice and community understanding can be brought together in a mutually interdependent and practical way Its theoretical and practical principles are applicable across a wide range of contexts concerning human benefit through urban environmental change and experience and it will be of interest to readers in the social sciences and environmental psychology as well as the spatial planning and design disciplines Eco-Homes Doctor Jenny Pickerill, 2016-01-15 It is widely understood that good affordable eco housing needs to be at the heart of any attempt to mitigate or adapt to climate change This is the first book to comprehensively explore eco housing from a geographical social and political perspective It starts from the premise that we already know how to build good eco houses and we already have the technology to retrofit existing housing Despite this relatively few eco houses are being built Featuring over thirty case studies of eco housing in Britain Spain Thailand Argentina and the United States Eco Homes examines the ways in which radical changes to our houses such as making them more temporary using natural materials or relying on manual heating and ventilation systems require changes in how we live As such it argues it is not lack of technology or political will that is holding us back from responding to climate change but deep rooted cultural and social understandings of our way of life and what we expect our houses to do for us Permaculture International Journal ,1996 Enabling Architecture Kristin Lynn Personett, 2003 The Library as Place in California Stacy Shotsberger Russo, 2008-03-28 From the educational space of UC Berkeley to a one room library in Silverado Canyon this tour of thirty two California libraries explores the sense of space and unique atmosphere a structure can provide Dividing California into eight distinct regions including the northern California coast the San Francisco Bay area Los Angeles County and San Diego County the work looks at a sampling of libraries from each area discussing the surroundings facilities and physical presentation of each building Chosen libraries reflect the communities they serve as well as their particular missions Entries include contact information for the selected library a website address and information regarding its size circulation and the extent of its collection Photographs of the libraries are also included Proceedings of the ACSA Annual Meeting Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture, 1996 The Architectural Review ,1991 Current Review of Complementary Medicine Mark S.
