Political Economy Of Social Control In Singapore

Political Economy Of Social Control In Singapore:

The Political Economy of Social Control in Singapore Chris Tremewan, 1994 Singapore's rapid economic growth has attracted much admiration. But can this success be sufficiently explained by the exploitation of a niche in the global free market? This book shows that there is a complex relationship between economic strategy, social control and political conflict in Singapore. It does this by looking at the regulatory functions of major state institutions. Public housing increases state control and forces people into wage labour even while supplying a high standard of accommodation. Singaporeans are sorted, stratified and fragmented by the education system. Racism and patriarchal relations seen in language population planning and eugenics policies are integral to education. Elections and parliament in Singapore are mechanisms for forcing submission, converting submission into consent and confining politics to parliamentary politics. The legal system functions to criminalise politics and politicise crime. The findings of all the chapters are drawn together to show how the system of social control has developed in phases in response to the changing nature of political resistance. Tremewan, 1996-04-29 The thesis presented here will not only change the way in which we understand contemporary Singaporean society and the relationship between the state and its citizens but will also provoke a debate about the social costs of economic development in other parts of the world and the future security of the island republic increasingly a Chinese enclave in a Malay sea in the twenty first century. Peter Carey Trinity College Oxford This study examines the development of Singapore's complex system of social regulation in relation to the phases of its economic strategy and political transition. It focuses on the way social control works through public housing and welfare, education, parliamentary politics and the law. It draws out the implications of such comprehensive control for political conflict. Popular explanations for Singapore's success and its status as a model for other developing countries are brought into question. The Political Economy of Southeast Asia Toby Carroll, Shahar Hameiri, Lee Jones, 2020-03-03 This is not only the best collection of essays on the political economy of Southeast Asia but also as a singular achievement of the Murdoch School, one of the rarest of books that demonstrates how knowledge production travels across generations, institutions and time periods, thereby continually enriching itself. No course on Southeast Asia can afford to miss it as its core text. Professor Amitav Acharya, American University, USA This book, the fourth in a path-breaking series, demonstrates why a critical political economy approach is more crucial than ever for understanding Southeast Asia's transformation. Across a wide range of topics, the book explains how capitalist development and globalisation are reshaping the societies, economies and politics of a diverse group of countries, casting light on the deep sources of economic and social power in the region. This is a book that every student of Southeast Asia needs to read. Professor Edward Aspinall, Australian National University, Australia This book does what a work on political economy should do: challenge existing paradigms in order to gain a deeper understanding of the processes of social transformation This volume is distinctive in three ways First it eschews methodological nationalism and focuses on how the interaction of national regional and global forces are shaping and reshaping systems of governance mass politics economies labor capital relations migration and gender relations across the region Second it is a bold effort to show how the Murdoch School which focuses on the dynamic synergy of internal class relations and global capitalism provides a better explanatory framework for understanding social change in Southeast Asia than the rival developmental state and historical institutionalist approaches Third alongside established luminaries in the field it showcases the younger generation of political economists doing pathbreaking work on different dimensions of the political economy of the region Walden Bello State University of New York at Binghamton USA and Former Member of the Philippines House of Representatives This very timely fourth edition explores Southeast Asia s political economy within the context of hyperglobalisation and China s pronounced social structural impacts on international politics finance and economics over the past decade and a half The volume successfully adopts a cross cutting thematic approach while also conveying the diversity and divergences among the Southeast Asian states and economies This will be an important resource for scholars of International Relations and Comparative Politics who need to take an interest in a dynamic and increasingly significant part of Asia Professor Evelyn Goh Australian National University Australia This ambitious collection takes a consistent theoretical approach and applies it to a thematic comparative analysis across Southeast Asia The yield is impressive the social political and economic forces constituting the current conjuncture are not simply invoked they are thoroughly identified and explained By posing the deceptively simple questions of what is happening and why the authors demonstrate the reciprocal relation between theory building and empirical inquiry providing a model of engaged scholarship with global resonance Bravo Professor Tania Li University of Toronto Canada Counteracting the spaceless and flattened geography of much literature on uneven development this book delivers a forensic examination of the unevenness of geographical development in Southeast Asia and the relations of force shaping capital state nature and civil society This is the most compelling theoretical and empirical political economy book available on Southeast Asia Professor Adam David Morton University of Sydney Australia A vital book for all scholars students and practitioners concerned with political economy and development this volume combines cutting edge theory with rich and wide ranging empirical analysis It is terrific to see the continued success of this book with this fully revised fourth edition Professor Nicola Philips Kings College London UK The Political Economy of Southeast Asia has become a leading reference for students of the region With its breadth of geographic scope timely themes clarity of prose and rigour of analysis Carroll Hameiri and Jones have ensured that with this fourth edition the volume will continue its landmark status The book which brings together prominent experts in the field will not only be of immense interest to scholars studying Southeast Asia but also those seeking to understand the multifaceted nature of the political economy of uneven development in contemporary capitalism Professor Susanne Soederberg Queen s University Canada The Asia Research Centre at Murdoch

University has long produced leading analyses of the social economic and political developments in Southeast Asia This volume carries on that wonderful tradition It brings together top class scholars to challenge our assumptions about one of the most dynamic parts of the world This collection is a crucial read for anyone interested in understanding trends in Southeast Asia s development today and into the future Professor Richard Stubbs McMaster University Canada This fourth volume in a distinguished series provides a welcome and timely update of the Murdoch School s distinctive approach to understanding the evolving political economy of Southeast Asia Its theoretical depth and wide empirical scope will be of great value to scholars students and practitioners seeking a systematic understanding of the political economy dynamics in the Asian region and more broadly of states and regions embedded in a complex unstable global political economy Professor Andrew Walter University of Melbourne This all new fourth edition of The Political Economy of Southeast Asia constitutes a state of the art comprehensive analysis of the political economic social and ecological development of one of the world s most dynamic regions With contributions from world leading experts the volume is unified by a single theoretical approach the Murdoch School of political economy which foregrounds struggles over power and resources and the evolving global context of hyperglobalisation Themes considered include gender populism the transformation of the state regional governance aid and the environment The volume will be of interest to scholars and students across multiple disciplines including political economy development studies international relations and area studies The findings of contributors will also be of value to civil society policymakers and anyone interested in Southeast Asia and its development

Constitutional Politics Sotirios A. Barber, Robert P. George, 2021-03-09 What does it mean to have a constitution Scholars and students associated with Walter Murphy at Princeton University have long asked this question in their exploration of constitutional politics and judicial behavior These scholars concerned with the making maintenance and deliberate change of the Constitution have made unique and significant contributions to our understanding of American constitutional law by going against the norm of court centered and litigation minded research Beginning in the late 1970s this new wave of academics explored questions ranging from the nature of creating the U S Constitution to the philosophy behind amending it In this collection Sotirios A Barber and Robert P George bring together fourteen essays by members of this Princeton group some of the most distinguished scholars in the field These works consider the meaning of having a constitution the implications of particular choices in the design of constitutions and the meaning of judicial supremacy in the interpretation of the Constitution The overarching ambition of this collection is to awaken a constitutionalist consciousness in its readers to view themselves as potential makers and changers of constitutions as opposed to mere subjects of existing arrangements In addition to the editors the contributors are Walter F Murphy John E Finn Christopher L Eisgruber James E Fleming Jeffrey K Tulis Suzette Hemberger Stephen Macedo Sanford Levinson H N Hirsch Wayne D Moore Keith E Whittington and Mark E Brandon Crossing Borders in the Asia-Pacific James Cotton,2002 The impact across borders of transnational identities business links and ideas has been on the international political agenda for a long time These cross border phenomena have a steady and profound influence on domestic politics and international relations However they also represent a challenge because these factors can subvert accustomed views of sovereignty The essays in this book stress the diversity and influence as well as the limitations of cross border phenomena in the Asia Pacific a region home to the principles of non interference and respect for autonomy Emerging from this collection is a picture of an area dynamically affected by the penetration of ideas organised interests and financial flows Though national borders have become more porous state power and local identities still resist shape and modify cross border influences The Spirit of Cities Daniel A. Bell,Avner de-Shalit,2013-10-27 A lively and personal book that returns the city to political thought Cities shape the lives and outlooks of billions of people yet they have been overshadowed in contemporary political thought by nation states identity groups and concepts like justice and freedom The Spirit of Cities revives the classical idea that a city expresses its own distinctive ethos or values In the ancient world Athens was synonymous with democracy and Sparta represented military discipline In this original and engaging book Daniel Bell and Avner de Shalit explore how this classical idea can be applied to today s cities and they explain why philosophy and the social sciences need to rediscover the spirit of cities Bell and de Shalit look at nine modern cities and the prevailing ethos that distinguishes each one The cities are Jerusalem religion Montreal language Singapore nation building Hong Kong materialism Beijing political power Oxford learning Berlin tolerance and intolerance Paris romance and New York ambition Bell and de Shalit draw upon the richly varied histories of each city as well as novels poems biographies tourist guides architectural landmarks and the authors own personal reflections and insights They show how the ethos of each city is expressed in political cultural and economic life and also how pride in a city s ethos can oppose the homogenizing tendencies of globalization and curb the excesses of nationalism The Spirit of Cities is unreservedly impressionistic Combining strolling and storytelling with cutting edge theory the book encourages debate and opens up new avenues of inquiry in philosophy and the social sciences It is a must read for lovers of cities everywhere In a new preface Bell and de Shalit further develop their idea of civic pride the pride city dwellers feel for their city and its ethos over that of others The Political Economy of Technical Intellectual Capital Formation in Southeast Asia Bryan K.
