Political Economy Of South Africa's Transition:

The Political Economy of South Africa's Transition Jonathan Michie, Vishnu Padayachee, 1997 The Political Economy of South Africa's Transition provides the basis for a critical examination of the recent history and politics of the process of economic policy formulation in South Africa South Africa: Limits To Change Hein Marais, 2001-09-08 Drawing on the rich structural and political understandings of radical South African intellectuals this book explains why the South African government has been unable to breach the boundaries of change erected by the privileged classes It reveals why it has adopted conservative economic policies and why the country's popular movement has failed to press home more radical opinions Hein Marais compellingly probes the hidden dynamics of South Africa's transition arguing that the democratic breakthrough was much less open ended than generally believed

The Political Economy of South Africa Revisited: Tracking and Debating the Minerals-Energy and Financial Complex Benjamin Fine, 2025-12-11 South Africa's political economy is commonly understood as a Minerals Energy and Financial Complex MEFC But the MEC has been misunderstood Specifying the MEFC as a system of accumulation and drawing upon extensive research and engaging in critical debates the originator of the term traces the MEFC from apartheid origins through the ANC's failure to adopt coherent and coordinated policies ultimately leading to degeneration into state capture and beyond Emphasis is placed upon the interaction between South African specificities and globalisation neoliberalisation and financialisation anchoring economic and social reproduction in five lows across investment productivity wages employment and social provision

The Political Economy of South Africa's Post-apartheid Transition Benjamin Fine, 2025-05-26 South Africa's post apartheid transition has proven disastrous It is marked by the emergence of a black elite of enriched capitalists out of the globalisation neoliberalisation and financialisation of the economy in general and of its Minerals Energy and Financial Complex in particular By contrast inequalities poverty and failing social provision have persisted Recent attention has shifted to how this disastrous trajectory was initiated some suggesting a lack of available alternative policy options at the time of transition This is shown to be false with a full range of progressive alternatives being rejected with corresponding consequences from state capture to electoral defeat

Zimbabwe, the Political Economy of Transition, 1980-1986 Ibbo Mandaza, 1986 South Africa Pushed to the Limit Hein Marais, 2013-07-04 Since 1994 the democratic government in South Africa has worked hard at improving the lives of the black majority yet close to half the population lives in poverty jobs are scarce and the country is more unequal than ever For millions the colour of people's skin still decides their destiny In his wide ranging incisive and provocative analysis Hein Marais shows that although the legacies of apartheid and colonialism weigh heavy many of the strategic choices made since the early 1990s have compounded those handicaps Marais explains why those choices were made where they went awry and why South Africa's vaunted formations of the left old and new have failed to prevent or alter them From the real reasons behind President Jacob Zuma's rise and the purging of his predecessor Thabo Mbeki to a devastating critique of the country's continuing AIDS crisis its economic path and its approach to the rights and entitlements of citizens South Africa Pushed to the Limit presents a riveting benchmark analysis of the incomplete journey beyond apartheid

Development Planning in South Africa John Reynolds, 2018-06-15 Celebrated as a beacon of democracy and reconciliation many people in South Africa continue to live in severe poverty particularly in the Eastern Cape Province Backed by the United Nations Development Programme the Eastern Cape's provincial government consequently launched an historically ambitious programme the Provincial Growth and Development Plan aimed at tackling the province's poverty unemployment and inequality over a ten year period in a radical policy overhaul Drawing on the author's first hand engagement with the planning process Development Planning in South Africa is an empirically rich study that utilises a strategic relational approach to explore the ways in which this unprecedented challenge was negotiated and eventually undermined by the South African state The first work of its kind the book provides an indispensable micro level study with profound implications for how state power is understood to be organised and expressed in state policy Relevant beyond South Africa to policy implementation in both developing and developed states globally the book is essential reading for students and scholars of government studies political economy development policy studies and social movements

The Political Economy of Trade Reform in Emerging Markets Peter Draper, Phil Alves, Razeen Sally, 2009 This timely book brings fresh analysis to the important issue of trade policy reform in emerging markets The subject matter and its significance are comprehensively introduced with a review of developing country liberalization since the 1980s providing an analytical framework for the seven country case studies that follow The case studies Australia Brazil Chile India Malaysia New Zealand and South Africa cover a wide variety of political historical and economic issues but all make clear the important role that crisis or the threat of it plays in meaningful trade policy reform This is of particular relevance in the current global financial crisis These studies together with the conclusions which are drawn from them show how important the trade liberalization agenda remains in the 21st century Written by a combination of both experts and practitioners this highly topical book will make productive reading for policy makers concerned with trade policy in developed and developing countries as well as scholars working in trade policy Postgraduate students studying international business international relations economics politics and international law should not be without this book

Christian Krohn-Hansen,Knut G. Nustad,2005-09-20 What is the state and how can we best study it This book investigates new ways of analysing the state The contributors argue that the state is not a fixed and definite object Our perceptions of it are constantly changing and differ from person to person What is your idea of the state if you are a refugee Or if you are living in post apartheid South Africa Our perceptions are formed and sustained by evolving discourses and techniques these come from institutions such as government but are also made by communities and individuals The contributors examine how state structures are viewed from the inside by official state bodies composed of bureaucrats and politicians and how these state manifestations are supported reproduced or transformed at a local level An outline of theoretical approaches is followed by nine case studies ranging from South Africa to Peru to Norway With a good range of contributors including Cris Shore Clifton Crais Ana Alonso and Bruce Kapferer this is a comprehensive critical analysis of anthropological approaches to the study of state formation Shadow of Liberation Vishnu Padayachee,Robert Van Niekerk,2019-10-01 Shadow of Liberation explores the intricate twists turns contestations and compromises of ANC economic and social policymaking with a focus on the transition era of the 1990 s and the early years of democracy With the damning revelations by the Zondo Commission of Inquiry into State Capture on the massive corruption of the South African body politic the timing of this book could not be more relevant South Africans need to confront the economic and social policy choices that the liberation movement made and to see how these decisions may have facilitated the conditions for corruption to emerge and flourish Answers are needed Padayachee and van Niekerk focus their attention on the primary question of how and why the ANC given its historical anti inequality re distributive stance come in the 1990s to such a dramatic turn around and move towards an essentially market dominated approach Were they pushed or did they go willingly What role if any did Western governments and international financial institutions play And what of the role of the late apartheid state and South African business Did leaders and comrades sell out the ANC s emancipatory policy vision Shadow of Liberation tries to provide answers to these questions drawing on the best available primary archival evidence as well as extensive interviews with key protagonists across the political non government and business spectrum The authors argue that the ANC s emancipatory policy agenda was broadly to establish a social democratic welfare state upholding rights of social citizenship However its economic policy framework to realise this emancipatory mission was either non existent or egregiously misguided
