Political Economy Of Foreign Policy In Southeast Asia:

The Political Economy of Foreign Policy in Southeast Asia David Wurfel, Bruce Burton, 2016-07-27 This is the first book in several years to review the foreign policies of major Southeast Asian states and the first ever to include those frequently neglected smaller states. It is also unique in the editors' adherence to a new comparative framework which attempts to weave together the earlier literature on comparative foreign policy analysis and current concepts of political economy. Comparative foreign policy studies are introduced by three distinguished scholars in that field. A general survey of international relations in Southeast Asia then precedes the country chapters, all authored by experienced specialists. A concluding chapter attempts to identify the emerging patterns of Southeast Asian foreign policy and suggest explanations for them.

Southeast Asia in the New World Order Bruce Burton, David Wurfel, 2016-07-27 This multi-authored book looks at one of the most dynamic regions of the Third World within the context of the rapidly changing international system of the 1990s. Among the many themes it explores are ASEAN's new political roles and new modes of economic cooperation, the growing importance of ecological and human rights issues, the policies of the major external powers towards the region, the Cambodian and Spratly conflicts, and the relevance of Southeast Asian experience in the New World Order to the ongoing theoretical debates about democracy, the market, the state, and multilateralism.

The Political Economy of Southeast Asia Toby Carroll, Shahar Hameiri, Lee Jones, 2020-03-03 This is not only the best collection of essays on the political economy of Southeast Asia but also as a singular achievement of the Murdoch School, one of the rarest of books that demonstrates how knowledge production travels across generations, institutions, and time periods, thereby continually enriching itself. No course on Southeast Asia can afford to miss it as its core text. Professor Amitav Acharya, American University, USA. This book, the fourth in a path-breaking series, demonstrates why a critical political economy approach is more crucial than ever for understanding Southeast Asia's transformation. Across a wide range of topics, the book explains how capitalist development and globalisation are reshaping the societies, economies, and politics of a diverse group of countries, casting light on the deep sources of economic and social power in the region. This is a book that every student of Southeast Asia needs to read. Professor Edward Aspinall, Australian National University, Australia. This book does what a work on political economy should do: challenge existing paradigms in order to gain a deeper understanding of the processes of social transformation. This volume is distinctive in three ways. First, it eschews methodological nationalism and focuses on how the interaction of national, regional, and global forces are shaping and reshaping systems of governance, mass politics, economies, labor-capital relations, migration, and gender relations across the region. Second, it is a bold effort to show how the Murdoch School, which focuses on the dynamic synergy of internal class relations and global capitalism, provides a better explanatory framework for understanding social change in Southeast Asia.

than the rival developmental state and historical institutionalist approaches Third alongside established luminaries in the field it showcases the younger generation of political economists doing pathbreaking work on different dimensions of the political economy of the region Walden Bello State University of New York at Binghamton USA and Former Member of the Philippines House of Representatives This very timely fourth edition explores Southeast Asia's political economy within the context of hyperglobalisation and China's pronounced social structural impacts on international politics finance and economics over the past decade and a half The volume successfully adopts a cross cutting thematic approach while also conveying the diversity and divergences among the Southeast Asian states and economies This will be an important resource for scholars of International Relations and Comparative Politics who need to take an interest in a dynamic and increasingly significant part of Asia Professor Evelyn Goh Australian National University Australia This ambitious collection takes a consistent theoretical approach and applies it to a thematic comparative analysis across Southeast Asia The yield is impressive the social political and economic forces constituting the current conjuncture are not simply invoked they are thoroughly identified and explained By posing the deceptively simple questions of what is happening and why the authors demonstrate the reciprocal relation between theory building and empirical inquiry providing a model of engaged scholarship with global resonance Bravo Professor Tania Li University of Toronto Canada Counteracting the spaceless and flattened geography of much literature on uneven development this book delivers a forensic examination of the unevenness of geographical development in Southeast Asia and the relations of force shaping capital state nature and civil society This is the most compelling theoretical and empirical political economy book available on Southeast Asia Professor Adam David Morton University of Sydney Australia A vital book for all scholars students and practitioners concerned with political economy and development this volume combines cutting edge theory with rich and wide ranging empirical analysis It is terrific to see the continued success of this book with this fully revised fourth edition Professor Nicola Philips Kings College London UK The Political Economy of Southeast Asia has become a leading reference for students of the region With its breadth of geographic scope timely themes clarity of prose and rigour of analysis Carroll Hameiri and Jones have ensured that with this fourth edition the volume will continue its landmark status The book which brings together prominent experts in the field will not only be of immense interest to scholars studying Southeast Asia but also those seeking to understand the multifaceted nature of the political economy of uneven development in contemporary capitalism Professor Susanne Soederberg Queen's University Canada The Asia Research Centre at Murdoch University has long produced leading analyses of the social economic and political developments in Southeast Asia This volume carries on that wonderful tradition It brings together top class scholars to challenge our assumptions about one of the most dynamic parts of the world This collection is a crucial read for anyone interested in understanding trends in Southeast Asia's development today and into the future Professor Richard Stubbs McMaster University Canada This fourth volume in a distinguished series provides a welcome and timely update of the Murdoch School's distinctive approach to understanding the evolving political economy of Southeast Asia. Its theoretical depth and wide empirical scope will be of great value to scholars, students, and practitioners seeking a systematic understanding of the political economy dynamics in the Asian region and more broadly of states and regions embedded in a complex, unstable global political economy. Professor Andrew Walter, University of Melbourne. This all new fourth edition of The Political Economy of Southeast Asia constitutes a state-of-the-art comprehensive analysis of the political, economic, social, and ecological development of one of the world's most dynamic regions. With contributions from world leading experts, the volume is unified by a single theoretical approach, the Murdoch School of political economy, which foregrounds struggles over power and resources and the evolving global context of hyperglobalisation. Themes considered include gender, populism, the transformation of the state, regional governance, aid, and the environment. The volume will be of interest to scholars and students across multiple disciplines, including political economy, development studies, international relations, and area studies. The findings of contributors will also be of value to civil society, policymakers, and anyone interested in Southeast Asia and its development. Navigating The New Political Economy In Southeast Asia: Perspectives From Japan, Taiwan And The Region Alan Hao Yang, Masahiro Matsumura, 2023-06-22. Based on workshops co-organized by Japan's St Andrew University and Taiwan's National Chengchi University, this book provides readers with the toolbox for navigating the regional dynamics of political economy in Southeast Asia, with special focus on exploring the key factors determining the shifting dynamics. Organized in three parts, namely geopolitical and security factors, alternative fields for regional cooperation, and the regional considerations of Southeast Asia, the chapters in the book feature key factors determining the political economy of the region. Written by authors hailing from varied backgrounds, this book is also the joint research efforts on policy discussion and timely assessment of COVID-19 recovery plans in Southeast Asia. The Political Economy of India's Foreign Policy, 2014-03-15. Product of a Post-doctoral research done at the University of Washington, Seattle, USA, the present work is an attempt to conceptualise and analyse the postulates underlying India's Foreign Policy from its formative years in the early fifties to its maturation in the early eighties of the last century. It subjects the management of foreign relations by India to a full-scale theoretical examination from the political economy angle, an exercise few scholars then or now have undertaken. Notions of security, national interest, diplomatic leverage, decision-making process, and so on, have in this work been revisited in the decisive context of a domestic-external continuum in which forces of economic origin were seen as defining the rationale of a foreign policy that was supposed to take a developing nation to the fulfilment of its legitimate aspirations. At the same time, the innovations that were made with practically no earlier precedent to go by, and the kind of institution building required for the purpose, have been dealt with critically so as to bring out the interplay of domestic development aspirations and the art of ensuring policy independence by appropriate diplomacy. In the turbulent context of the Cold War, the Indian experiment in the management of foreign relations and the positive gains it

reaped in collectivising the principle of non alignment did constitute a subject that demanded a non conventional approach to get to the bottom of it That is precisely what distinguishes the book by one of the most qualified experts in International Relations enjoying intellectual acclaim both at home and abroad The book starts with a theoretical discourse on the applicability or otherwise of the political economy approach as it stood at the time of writing In subsequent chapters it examines a dependent economy s quest for an independent foreign policy the central challenge before the external affairs ministry of the country It needed among other things handling of external aid and foreign investment to recharge the developmental enterprises at home in a manner that would not interfere with the autonomy in judging and reacting to external events Economic restructuring at home which brought a strong public sector as complementary to a fledgling private sector constituted an essential aspect So also came up the new experiment of building a collective economic front with other developing nations In its compact yet well documented analysis the book provides the most engaging scholarly presentation of the subject in all its relevant technicalities Political Economy of East Asian Economic Integration Fusanori Iwasaki, Keita Oikawa, Shujiro Urata, 2025-02-25 This book studies the influence of the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership RCEP on the East Asia region and the rest of the world from an international relations perspective Analysing the history and negotiation process of RCEP through a collection of written interviews from negotiators involved in the RCEP this book helps readers understand the origins proceedings and characteristics of mega regional trade integration Individual case studies analyse the RCEP negotiations from the viewpoint of various states or economic blocs such as ASEAN Australia China Japan the European Union EU and the United States Several chapters also illustrate the dynamism of the regional architecture in East Asia concerning other regional movements including the Trans Pacific Partnership TPP Comprehensive and Progressive TPP CPTPP Belt and Road Initiative and the newly launched Indo Pacific Economic Framework IPEF In sum the chapters illustrate how RCEP member countries and non member countries try to utilise maximise their national interests This book will interest researchers of international relations international politics international economics and international political economy as well as policymakers and negotiators responsible for future regional economic integration projects

Southeast Asia (Routledge Revivals) Richard Higgott, Richard Robison, 2013-10-31 The articles in this edited collection first published in 1985 consider the competing theories of the nature of development and underdevelopment in Southeast Asia Each chapter challenges the academic orthodoxies and dominant traditions of Southeast Asian studies particularly in relation to orientalist history behaviourist political science and development economics Overall the contributions offer an alternative framework for analysis which considers the structural changes to the political economy of Southeast Asia as well as the relationship between the state economy and class at a domestic level This is a fascinating collection of value to students and academics with an interest in Southeast Asian politics economics and history The Geopolitics of Energy in South Asia Marie Lall, 2009 Energy security has become a central concern for all the countries in the Asian region and the search for sufficient sources of energy to fuel economic growth has drastically influenced relations among the South Asian countries as well as their respective relations with their neighbours China Myanmar Iran and Afghanistan The recent nuclear deal between India and the US is also indicative of how energy and power politics are linked and how these new inter linkages underlie relations between states This book aims to give a South Asian perspective on the geopolitics of energy with a central focus on India The chapters address how India s global and regional foreign policy making has changed in light of India s search for energy and how this is affecting the relationship on a global level between India and the US as well as on a regional level between India and the other Asian countries The book also offers views from Pakistan and Bangladesh as well as how this shifting reality is affecting relations between India and Southeast Asia
