Polar Rosses John James Clark Ross T:

The polar Rosses Ernest S. Dodge,1969 The Polar Rosses: John and James Clark Ross and Their Explorations Ernest Stanley Dodge,1973 Polar Pioneers M. Ross,1994-11-16 In 1818 John Ross led an expedition to search for the Northwest Passage He got as far as Baffin Bay but when he reached the only practicable entrance to the passage he declared it to be no more than a bay enclosed by mountains In subsequent years he was widely derided for that error and carried the scars of public and professional humiliation for the rest of his life In 1829 he mounted a private expedition to search for the passage during which he became trapped in the Canadian Arctic and survived a four year ordeal of isolation and hardship He proved that whatever his shortcomings as an explorer he could never be accused of lacking courage James Clark Ross was one of the most experienced and respected explorers of his day He led or took part in eight expeditions to the Arctic including John Ross 1818 and 1829 expeditions and three with the great explorer William Edward Parry He also led a highly successful scientific expedition to the Antarctic in 1839 43 His many important discoveries included locating the North Magnetic Pole and he ensured the presence of the Ross family name throughout both polar regions Ross Island Ross Ice Shelf and Ross Sea in the Antarctic James Ross Strait Ross Bay Ross Point and Ross ya in the Arctic Drawing on family papers and extensive research M J Ross traces the careers of these two very different men highlighting their achievements and defeats and presents a detailed picture of their private lives Nineteenth-Century Travels, Explorations and Empires, Part I Vol 1 Peter J Kitson,William Baker,Indira Ghose,Susan Schoenbauer Thurin,2021-11-18 A collection of writings on travels undertaken in the Victorian era The texts collected in these volumes show how 19th century travel literature served the interests of empire by promoting British political and economic values that translated into manufacturing goods A Frenchman in Search of Franklin Emile Frédéric de Bray,Émile-Frédéric de Bray,1992-01-01 In April 1852 Emile Frederic de Bray sailed down the Thames on board Resolute The ship was bound for the icy waters north of Canada as part of Sir Edward Belcher s Arctic Squadron searching for Sir John Franklin and his men missing since the summer of 1845 De Bray s diaries of his years with Resolute have not been published before in any language and only one other account of this particular Franklin search expedition exists Enseigne de vaisseau de Bray seconded at his own request from the French navy was something of a rarity among those who made up the search parties he was not British One of his shipmates hoped for the best The Frenchman does not seem an Englishman he observed but I suppose he will improve on acquaintance As a result de Bray notices and comments on details and incidents his fellow officers would have considered unremarkable Cape de Bray on the northwest coast of Melville Island commemorates the efforts of this intrepid French officer who gained the respect of his fellows was made a Chevalier of the Legion d honneur by Napoleon III and was awarded the Arctic Medal by Queen Victoria Arctic Hell-Ship William Barr,2007-06 In 1850 Richard Collinson captained the HMS Enterprise on a voyage to the Arctic via the Bering Strait in search of the missing Franklin expedition Arctic Hell Ship describes the daily progress of this little known Arctic expedition and examines the steadily worsening relations between Collinson and his officers William Barr has based his research on a wide range of original archival documents and the book is illustrated with a selection of vivid paintings by the ship's assistant surgeon Edward Adams
