Police Discretion in India Satyajit Mohanty, 2023-08-31 This book is the first empirical study of police discretion in India. Going beyond anecdotal accounts, it addresses the issues and concerns of arrest discretion behaviour of police with analysis of available literature internationally, testing the validity in the context of police in India and explaining the gap that exists between the legislative intent and field law enforcement. It establishes how extralegal determinants like subculture, environment and situations influence arrest discretion as much as legal determinants such as statutes, rules, manuals and court rulings. It also provides vital explanations on the working of the police system in India. The volume will be of great interest to policymakers, police leaders, officers of judiciary, scholars and researchers of criminology and criminal justice, sociology and social anthropology and South Asian studies.

Police in America Steven G. Brandl, 2017-01-25 Police in America provides students with a comprehensive and realistic introduction to modern policing in our society. Utilizing real word examples grounded in evidence based research, this easy to read conversational text helps students think critically about the many misconceptions of police work and understand best practices in everyday policing. Respected scholar and author Steven G Brandl draws from his experience in law enforcement to emphasize the positive aspects of policing without sugar coating the controversies of police work. Brandl tackles important topics that center on one question: What is good policing? This includes discussions of discretion, police use of force and tough ethical and moral dilemmas, giving students a deeper look into the complex issues of policing to help them think more broadly about its impact on society. Students will walk away from this text with a well developed understanding of the complex role of police in our society, an appreciation of the challenges of policing and an ability to differentiate fact from fiction relating to law enforcement.
