Political Economy Of Adult Education And Development:

The Political Economy of Adult Education and Development Frank Youngman, 2000-06-15 In the formerly colonial world the discourse of development has established an almost unquestioned intellectual and political dominance Adult educators their purposes and their programmes are inevitably deeply shaped by this fact Frank Youngman believes that adult educators need to have an understanding of the various different theories of development and how different development strategies and biases impact on their own work The purpose of his book is to provide a theory of applied political economy to explain the interface between society and adult education in developing countries The author's own approach is broadly influenced by the Marxist tradition but one that seeks to transcend many of the limitations and rigidities often prevalent in the past He introduces adult educators to the main competing theories of development the modernisation dependency neo liberal and various alternative approaches He then demonstrates the power of his analytical tools by examining a variety of specific issues affecting adult education These include the impact of foreign aid social inequalities notably class gender and ethnic inequalities and the relationship between state and civil society in peripheral capitalist societies The book draws on a wealth of empirical information and case studies from various parts of the world but with particular attention to the country which the author knows best Botswana Its signal contribution is its elaboration of a theory of the political economy of adult education in the context of development and its demonstration of the applicability of this theoretical framework including its usefulness in generating appropriate research agendas

Political Economy of Adult Learning Systems Richard Desjardins, 2017-01-12 Based on comparative adult education statistics offered by the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD Survey of Adult Skills PIAAC and country case studies this book analyses the policies and structures that foster adult learning It examines a variety of forms of adult learning ranging from initial forms of post compulsory education such as upper secondary tracks and tertiary education to firm training compensatory adult education and learning for civic and leisure oriented purposes Throughout the book adult learning systems are directly linked to a variety of structural and public policy frameworks using a comparative welfare state approach Themes such as pathways to learning and transition systems participation patterns in higher education and participation patterns in other organized forms of adult learning are covered The countries discussed are the UK the USA Korea Denmark Finland Norway Germany and the Netherlands Situated at the intersection between scholarship and policy and using a mixed methods approach this title contributes fundamental insights into the further study of policies and structures related to alternative post compulsory learning pathways studies this book analyses the policies and structures that foster adult learning It examines a variety of forms of adult learning ranging from initial forms of post compulsory education such as upper secondary tracks and tertiary education to firm training compensatory adult education and learning for civic and leisure oriented purposes Throughout the book adult learning systems are directly linked to a variety of structural and public policy frameworks using a comparative welfare state approach Themes such as pathways to learning and transition systems participation patterns in higher education and participation patterns in other organized forms of adult learning are covered The countries discussed are the UK the USA Korea Denmark Finland Norway Germany and the Netherlands Situated at the intersection between scholarship and policy and using a mixed methods approach this title contributes fundamental insights into the further study of policies and structures related to alternative post compulsory learning pathways

Towards a Transformative Political Economy of Adult Education Paul Wangoola, Frank Youngman, 1996

Adult Learning and Education Kjell Rubenson, 2011-01-07 As individuals and societies try to respond to fundamental economic and social transformation the field of adult learning and education is rapidly getting increased attention and new topics for research on adult learning have emerged This collection of articles from the International Encyclopedia of Education 3e offers practitioners and researchers in the area of adult learning and education a comprehensive summary of main developments in the field The 45 articles provide insight into the historical development of the field its conceptual controversies domains and provision perspectives on adult learning instruction and program planning outcomes relationship to economy and society and its status as a field of scholarly study and practice Saves researchers time in summarizing in one place what is otherwise an interdisciplinary field in cognitive psychology personality sociology and education Level of presentation focuses on critical research leaving out the extraneous and focusing on need to know information Contains contributions from top international researchers in the field Makes MRW content affordable to individual researchers

Making Space Vanessa Sheared, Peggy A. Sissel, 2001-06-30 Representative of a wide range of adult education and lifelong learning frameworks and experiences this book gives voice to emerging perspectives and offers thought provoking critiques of established practices and accepted theories Those in the adult education academy as well as other voices often excluded from the discourse in adult education offer critiques of the social political economic and historical forms of hegemony in the discipline They analyze the ways in which these hegemonic norms and practices have affected adult learning environments and the participation rates of varying groups and shed light on how adult education as a field of practice can marginalize individuals based on their ethnicity race gender class language age or sexual orientation These critiques provide a powerful statement about silence invisibility and the marginalization of the other and suggest that adult educators may complicitly if not implicitly marginalize adult learners This book will provide professors and students adult literacy teachers corporate trainers community based organizers and others with alternative ways to think about adult education practice adult learners and the multiple intersecting realities that influence the teaching learning transaction In so doing this book provides practitioners and academicians with a forum to dialog about emerging theories and practices and through the discourse they can begin to merge theories and practices through language that is accessible and inclusive Toward a Political Economy of Adult Education in the Third World Glen C.
