by Playboy and other products and the growing concerns of cultural critics over the emergence of a regime of stimulation In one case study Rutherford pairs James Bond and Madonna in order to examine the link between eroticism and aggression He further details how television advertising after 1980 constructed a theatre of the libido to entice the buying public and concludes by situating the Eros project in the wider context of Michel Foucault's account of the administration of life and specifically sexuality during the modern era A World Made Sexy is about power and pleasure emancipation and domination and the relationship between the personal passions and social controls that have crafted desire
