Shadowed Ground Kenneth E. Foote, 2013-12-06 Winner John Brinckerhoff Jackson Prize Association of American Geographers 1997 Shadowed Ground explores how and why Americans have memorialized or not the sites of tragic and violent events spanning three centuries of history and every region of the country For this revised edition Kenneth Foote has written a new concluding chapter that looks at the evolving responses to recent acts of violence and terror including the destruction of the Branch Davidian compound at Waco Texas the Oklahoma City bombing the Columbine High School massacre and the terrorist attacks of 9/11

Von Chaos und Krieg zu Ordnung und Frieden Hermann Wellenreuther, 2006 Recovering 9/11 in New York Robert Fanuzzi, Michael Wolfe, 2014-04-23 This collection of essays offers a rich variety of approaches to how people and institutions in greater New York have sought to find meaning in the 9/11 attacks on the World Trade Center now a decade on The views and practices documented here join memory recovery and rebuilding together to form a vital new chapter in New York's metropolitan history Contributors contest the dominant nationalist narrative about 9/11 to generate a more local and socially engaged form of scholarship that connects directly with the experiences of people who lived or came to work in New York that fateful day and the years that followed In doing so these essays give academics and clinical professionals an opportunity to reflect upon and work with the people of a community in this case metropolitan New York as essential partners and even the main protagonists in creating new paradigms to capture the significance of these events and their aftermath The collection is comprised of sixteen essays by experts drawn from a wide range of scholarly and professional fields They investigate how people across the New York metropolitan region initially responded to and have since remembered the events of September 11th as they rippled out into the city the surrounding metropolitan region and the nation at large They engage directly with the emotional and psychological aftermath of the attacks approaching the questions of healing and teaching from a variety of institutional professional and non professional perspectives The volume concludes with a selection of essays that grapple with the challenge of Representing 9/11 Contributors to this section evaluate contemporary novels and films that have risked engagement with deep narrative traditions to translate the recent memory of public events into resonant stories and imaginative language Readers are invited to consider how all these responses in literature memorials media representations and the words and actions of diverse individuals still contribute to the complex yet inescapable challenge of making meaning of 9 11 Deathscapes James D. Sidaway, 2016-05-13 Death is at once a universal and everyday but also an extraordinary experience in the lives of those affected Death and bereavement are thereby intensified at and frequently contained within certain sites and regulated spaces such as the hospital the cemetery and the mortuary However death also affects and unfolds in many other spaces the home public spaces and places of worship sites of accident tragedy and violence Such spaces or Deathscapes are intensely private and personal places while often simultaneously being shared collective sites of experience and remembrance each place mediated through the intersections of emotion body belief culture society and the state Bringing together geographers sociologists anthropologists cultural studies academics and historians among others this book focuses on the relationships between space place and death bereavement in western societies Addressing three broad themes the place of death the place of final disposition and spaces of remembrance and representation the chapters reflect a variety of scales ranging from the mapping of bereavement on the individual or in private domestic space through to sites of accident battle burial cremation and remembrance in public space The book also examines social and cultural changes in death and bereavement practices including personalisation and secularisation Other social trends are addressed by chapters on green and garden burial negotiating emotion in public private space remembrance of violence and disaster and virtual space A meshing of material and more than representational approaches consider the nature culture economy and politics of Deathscapes what are in effect some of the most significant places in human society Contested Placemaking in South Korea HaeRan Shin, 2025-07-01 This book explores how a place becomes a place in the Korean context with a particular focus on power knowledge and strategy Discussion of government involved placemaking initiatives including place marketing urban regeneration new city development and land reclamation demonstrate how actors from the public private and voluntary sectors contribute to governance structures The research examines how key actors from national and local governments civic organisations ordinary citizens and businesses communicate and interact with actors in other sectors within the realm of placemaking governance and will interest scholars of Asian urbanism architects urban politics geography and town planners Reading Confederate Monuments Maria Seger, 2022-08-24 Winner of a 2023 Edited Collection Award from the South Atlantic Modern Language Association Contributions by Danielle Christmas Joanna Davis McElligatt Garrett Bridger Gilmore Spencer R Herrera Cassandra Jackson Stacie McCormick Maria Seger Randi Lynn Tanglen Brook Thomas Michael C Weisenburg and Lisa Woolfork Reading Confederate Monuments addresses the urgent and vital need for scholars educators and the general public to be able to read and interpret the literal and cultural Confederate monuments pervading life in the contemporary United States The literary and cultural studies scholars featured in this collection engage many different archives and methods demonstrating how to read literal Confederate monuments as texts and in the context of the assortment of literatures that produced and celebrated them They further explore how to read the literary texts advancing and contesting Confederate ideology in the US cultural imaginary then and now as monuments in and of themselves On top of that the essays published here lay bare the cultural and pedagogical work of Confederate monuments and counter monuments divulging how and what they teach their readers as communal and yet contested narratives thereby showing why the persistence of Confederate monuments matters greatly to local and national notions of racial justice and belonging In doing so this collection illustrates what critics of US literature and culture can offer to ongoing scholarly and public discussions about Confederate monuments and memory Even as we remove relocate and recontextualize the physical symbols of the Confederacy dotting the US landscape the complicated histories cultural products and pedagogies of Confederate ideology remain embedded in the national consciousness To disrupt and potentially dismantle these enduring narratives alongside the statues themselves we must be able to recognize analyze and resist them in US life The pieces in this collection position us to think deeply about how and why we should continue that work
