

The background of the entire cover is a monochromatic red illustration of a woman. She is depicted from the chest up, wearing a traditional headscarf and a long, flowing dress. Her expression is serene, and she is looking slightly to the right. The illustration style is reminiscent of traditional Islamic art or Persian miniature painting, with fine lines and a soft, ethereal quality. In the top right corner, there is a small, white-outlined circle containing the text "ISLAM QUINTET ONE".

Shadows Of The Pomegranate Tree:

Shadows of the Pomegranate Tree Tariq Ali, 2015-07-07 Tariq Ali tells us the story of the aftermath of the fall of Granada by narrating a family saga of those who tried to survive after the collapse of their world. Ali is particularly deft at evoking what life must have been like for those doomed inhabitants besieged on all sides by intolerant Christendom. This is a novel that has something to say and says it well. The Guardian The Stone Woman Tariq Ali, 2001 Ali spins a web of tales that is as inventive and fantastical as the Arabian nights. The Times The Islam Quintet Tariq Ali, 2014-01-14 Five nuanced and powerful historical novels depicting the clashes among Muslims, Christians, and Jews from the Crusades to the twenty-first century. London. Celebrated British Pakistani journalist and author Tariq Ali takes a mind-expanding journey through the ages with these five acclaimed works of fiction. Available now in one collection, Shadows of the Pomegranate Tree. Ali captures the humanity and splendor of Muslim Spain in an enthralling story unraveled with thrift and verve. The Independent For the doomed Moors, the fall of Granada and the approaching forces of Christendom bring not peace but the sword. The Book of Saladin After Saladin reclaims the holy city of Jerusalem from the Crusaders, he turns to a Jewish scribe to record his story, which Edward Said calls a narrative for our time haunted by distant events and characters who are closer to us than we had dreamed. The Stone Woman Ali paints a vivid picture of a fading world. proclaims the New York Times Book Review as a distant descendant of an exiled Ottoman courtier, suffers a stroke in Istanbul, and his family rushes to his side to hear his last stories. A Sultan in Palermo In a marvelously paced and boisterously told novel of intrigue, love, insurrection, and manipulation, cartographer Muhammad al Idrisi is caught between his friendship with King Roger of Sicily and the resentments of his fellow Muslims. The Guardian Night of the Golden Butterfly A Lahore-born writer living in London is called back to his homeland by an old friend who, at seventy-five, has finally fallen in love. If Pakistan is a land of untold stories, writes the New Statesman, Ali is the country's finest historian and critic. Imagining Muslims in South Asia and the Diaspora Claire Chambers, Caroline Herbert, 2014-08-13 Literary, cinematic, and media representations of the disputed category of the South Asian Muslim have undergone substantial change in the last few decades, and particularly since the events of September 11, 2001. Here we find the first book-length critical analysis of these representations of Muslims from South Asia and its diaspora in literature, the media, culture, and cinema. Contributors contextualize these depictions against the burgeoning post-9/11 artistic interest in Islam and also against cultural responses to earlier crises on the subcontinent, such as Partition, 1947; the 1971 Indo-Pakistan war and secession of Bangladesh; the 1992 Ayodhya riots; the 2002 Gujarat genocide; and the Kashmir conflict. Offering a comparative approach, the book explores connections between artists' generic experimentalism and their interpretations of life as Muslims in South Asia and its diaspora, exploring literary and popular fiction, memoir, poetry, news media, and film. The collection highlights the diversity of representations of Muslims and the range of approaches to questions of Muslim religious and cultural identity, as well as secular discourse. Essays by leading scholars in the field highlight the significant role that literature film and other cultural products such as music can play in opening up space for complex reflections on Muslim identities and cultures and how such imaginative cultural forms can enable us to rethink secularism and religion Surveying a broad range of up to date writing and cultural production this concise and pioneering critical analysis of representations of South Asian Muslims will be of interest to students and academics of a variety of subjects including Asian Studies Literary Studies Media Studies Women s Studies Contemporary Politics Migration History Film studies and Cultural Studies

British Asian Fiction Neil Murphy,Wai-chew Sim,2008 In this outstanding collection of essays editors Neil Murphy and Wai chew Sim seek not so much to demarcate the field of British Asian fiction but to offer due acknowledgment of the artistic merit of the works of selected authors and simultaneously register their cultural significance This volume demonstrates in situ the virtues of commentary that engages in a substantial manner with formal and aesthetic considerations even as it implicates the discourses of alterity that dominate contemporary cultural criticism Additionally the essays delineate the complex subject positions explored by authors and texts and focus on the way writers negotiate the exigencies of their location within and between different social formations If it is the case that British literature can no longer be discussed in monocultural terms because of the impact of the writers under consideration it is also the case that the diverse trans cultural positions they explore are often less specified than proclaimed Addressing difference commensurability and form related notions of truth content these essays enlarge our understanding of the range of British and affiliated identities as well as the cultural contexts from which they arose Working as academics and critics from Singapore a useful vantage point Murphy and Sim have extended the parameters of British Asian to include not just writers from South Asia as is traditionally the case but writers whose parents or who themselves have migrated to Britain from other regions of Asia for example Japan Hong Kong and Malaysia This initiative has made it possible for professors Murphy and Sim to bring together first an interestingly varied group of authors among them those who came to prominence in the 1980s Salman Rushdie Timothy Mo Kazuo Ishiguro as well as their younger contemporaries Meera Syal Romesh Gunsekera Monica Ali Hari Kunzru Ooi Yang May and second a broad and diverse range of novels that span Timothy Mo s Sour Sweet 1982 and Tariq Ali s A Sultan in Palermo 2005 the fourth volume in his Islam quintet
