The Contemporary British Historical Novel Mariadele Boccardi, 2009-06-25 The Contemporary British Historical Novel is the first full length study of a genre that has had increasing critical attention and popular appeal at the turn of the twenty first century The book combines a contextual and theoretical framework for the success of historical fiction in Britain in the last forty years with detailed analysis of thirteen novels from well known examples of the genre such as The French Lieutenant's Woman and Possession to very recent works including Philip Hensher's The Mulberry Empire and James Robertson's Joseph Knight Boccardi discusses the contemporary British historical novel in relation to questions of national identity in the aftermath of the past particularly in the form of heritage and as a complex representative of postmodernism in fiction

Book Jacket The Contemporary British History Play Richard H. Palmer, 1998-06-18 British drama since 1956 has been particularly innovative This volume investigates how recent British history plays reflect the methods and values of New History in contrast to traditional biographical dramas that depict the lives of great men of the past More than 50 British playwrights are discussed including John Osborne John Arden Edward Bond Robert Bolt Pam Gems Howard Brenton Caryl Churchill Howard Barker and Peter Shaffer Historical drama consistently displays the sense of history prevalent when it was written a 17th century quest for precedent and analogy the affirmation of cosmic order in the 18th century the Romantic search for manifestations of spiritual purpose in Victorian times a demonstration that humans control events and the early 20th century promise emulating science to present the facts objectively Contemporary British history plays however demonstrate different agendas for history itself Marxist plays illustrate a historical dialect leading to the emergence of Communism Oppositional history takes the point of view of the disenfranchised the defeated or the oppressed Social histories refocus attention away from movers and shakers onto groups of small players Feminist historians expose the biases of a male dominated hegemony and confront the role of gender in history Deconstructionists debunk our confidence in historical metanarratives Postmodernism uses anachronism and stylistic eclecticism to emphasize parallels in different historical periods or to relate historically defined metaphors and rituals to modern experience Both playwrights and critics confront the implications of the idea that history is constructed and not simply found and new approaches to history demand innovations in the staging and structuring of plays

The Modern British Novel Malcolm Bradbury, 2001 Bradbury argues that almost a century since the emergence of Modernism it is now possible to see the entire period in perspective It is clear that the first 50 years from Henry James Wilde and Stevenson through James Joyce Lawrence Forster to Huxley Isherwood and Orwell have been extensively discussed in print The years since World War II though have not been examined in depth yet have produced talents such as Graham Greene Angus Wilson Beckett Doris Lessing Margaret Drabble Angela Carter Ian McEwan Kingsley and Martin Amis Julian Barnes Fay Weldon Salman Rushdie and Timothy Mo
