Shakespeare And Africa The Dark Lady Of His Sonnets Revamped and Other Africa related Associations:

A Comprehensive Guide to Shakespeare's Sonnets Roland Weidle, 2024-11-14 This book provides readers with the tools to unravel the complexities of one of the most difficult sonnet sequences introducing them to the literary tradition themes stylistic features and cultural contexts of the genre and the collection and offering close readings of more than 100 sonnets This combined approach enables readers not only to disentangle the complex relationships of the poems characters but also to appreciate their philosophical sensual topical and subversive qualities Of the book's two sections the first Contexts and Forms includes chapters on the sonnet tradition early publication history the structural features of the sequence and the Shakespearean sonnet as well as the main characteristics of the dramatis personae The second section Themes consists of 5 chapters and explores the theme clusters that can be identified throughout the sequence preservation writing desire deception imagination Additional features of the book include a step by step approach to a Shakespeare sonnet a model interpretation of a sonnet as well as charts and tables identifying and summarizing the sequence's mini narratives groups addressees and themes For easy reference the sonnets discussed in the book are cross referenced and listed in the index which also includes key terms and names of works and people Suggestions for further reading are provided at the end of each chapter and the annotated bibliography includes brief descriptions of the most useful works for further study

The Smell of Slavery Andrew Kettler, 2020-05-28 In the Atlantic World different groups were aromatically classified in opposition to other ethnic gendered and class assemblies due to an economic necessity that needed certain bodies to be defined as excremental which culminated in the creation of a progressive tautology that linked Africa and waste through a conceptual hendiadys born of capitalist licentiousness The African subject was defined as a scented object appropriated as filthy to create levels of ownership through discourse that marked African peoples as unable to access spaces of Western modernity Embodied cultural knowledge was potent enough to alter the biological function of the five senses to create a European olfactory consciousness made to sense the African other as foul Fascinating informative and deeply researched The Smell of Slavery exposes that concerns with pungency within the Western self were emitted outward upon the freshly dug outhouse of the mass slave grave called the Atlantic World

Shakespeare and the Cultural Politics of Conversion Stephen Wittek, 2022-09-17 This book takes a close look at Shakespeare's engagement with the flurry of controversy and activity surrounding the concept of conversion in post Reformation England For playhouse audiences during the period conversional thought encompassed a markedly diverse fluid amalgamation of ideas practices and arguments centered on the means by which an individual could move from one category of identity to another In an analysis that includes chapter length readings of The Taming of the Shrew Henry IV Part I The Merchant of Venice Othello and The Tempest the book argues that Shakespearean drama made a unique and substantive intervention in public discourse surrounding conversion and continues to speak meaningfully about conversional experience for audiences in the present age It will be of particular benefit to students and scholars with an interest in theatrical history performance theory theology cultural studies race studies and gender studies Anti-Black Racism in Early Modern English Drama Matthieu Chapman,2016-11-03 This is the first book to deploy the methods and ensemble of questions from Afro pessimism to engage and interrogate the methods of Early Modern English studies Using contemporary Afro pessimist theories to provide a foundation for structural analyses of race in the Early Modern Period it engages the arguments for race as a fluid construction of human identity by addressing how race in Early Modern England functioned not only as a marker of human identity but also as an a priori constituent of human subjectivity Chapman argues that Blackness is the marker of social death that allows for constructions of human identity to become transmutable based on the impossibility of recognition and incorporation for Blackness into humanity Using dramatic texts such as Othello Titus Andronicus and other Early Modern English plays both popular and lesser known the book shifts the binary away from the currently accepted standard of white non white that defines otherness in the period and examines race in Early Modern England from the prospective of a non black black antagonism The volume corrects the Afro pessimist assumption that the Triangle Slave Trade caused a rupture between Blackness and humanity By locating notions of Black inhumanity in England prior to chattel slavery the book positions the Triangle Trade as a result of rather than the cause of Black inhumanity It also challenges the common scholarly assumption that all varying types of human identity in Early Modern England were equally fluid by arguing that Blackness functioned as an immutable constant Through the use of structural analysis this volume works to simplify and demystify notions of race in Renaissance England by arguing that race is not only a marker of human identity but a structural antagonism between those engaged in human civil society opposed to those who are socially dead It will be an essential volume for those with interest in Renaissance Literature and Culture Shakespeare Contemporary Performance Theory Black Studies and Ethnic Studies Shakespeare in Southern Africa ,2007 African American Review ,2007 As the official publication of the Division on Black American Literature and Culture of the Modern Language Association of America African American review promotes an exchange among writers and scholars in the arts humanities and social sciences who hold diverse perspectives of African American literature and culture CLA Journal College Language Association (U.S.),2005 International Who's Who of Authors and Writers 2008 Europa Publications,2007-08-23 An invaluable source of information on the personalities and organizations of the literary world American Book Publishing Record ,2005 Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature Modern Humanities Research Association,2005 Includes both books and articles Shakespeare and Africa Robert F.
