Creative Misbehaviour Joanne Maria McNally, 2000. This thesis examines aspects of selected political and satirical Kabarett as a hitherto untapped resource within advanced foreign language learning classrooms. Given that Kabarett exploits socio-historical, political, literary and linguistic knowledge in a humorous and thought-provoking way, it is a contention of this thesis that Kabarett materials and techniques could enrich the language learning experience. The thesis examines Kabarett within two distinct historical and political contexts: between the First and Second World War and East German Kabarett since 1990, defining cultural and linguistic aspects of language and language use as creative misbehaviour. Creative misbehaviour is exemplified on pragmatic and textual levels and on lexical, syntactic, phonetic and non-verbal levels of language use. The thesis investigates how aspects of the strategies of Kabarett relate to concerns and considerations in foreign language learning and teaching. Special attention is directed at the problems associated with understanding and creating Kabarett-type material, particularly with respect to strategies and techniques, intercultural awareness and form-focused language work. Included in the investigation is a consideration of the forms of didactic guidance for exploiting aspects of Kabarett within the language classroom. This study suggests that creative misbehaviour, as exemplified by selective Kabarett materials and techniques, could be used within advanced foreign language learning classrooms in a potentially fruitful way in order to address cultural, cognitive, communicative and creative language work.
