EBOOK: Moving On to Key Stage 1 Julie Fisher, 2010-04-16 This timely book will help teachers in KS1 to implement authoritative recommendations on transition from recent reviews of primary education and convince senior managers and parents of the value of starting from the child. Its well grounded arguments coupled with practical guidance will foster the development of principled and confident professional judgement. Wendy Scott President TACTYC Julie is an excellent writer leading her reader through the difficult arguments about what really matters in our work with young children. She explores the tensions around the different drivers in Foundation Stage and Key Stage One teaching with sensitivity but with the same clear vision she shows in her earlier books. This is an important book for students, lecturers and teachers and a must for heads and subject co ordinators. Nick Swarbrick Westminster Institute of Education Oxford Brookes University UK. Your common sense authoritative warm and inspirational words remind me beyond all doubt of why I went into teaching Key Stage 1 teacher. This practical book offers a series of strategies for promoting learning that meets the needs and interests of Key Stage 1 pupils ensuring that the move from the Early Years Foundation Stage to Key Stage 1 is a positive one. It includes Suggestions for implementing the recommendations of the Rose Review. Descriptions and case studies of good practice that stem from established principles of learning and teaching. Reflective practice prompts at the end of each chapter. Julie Fisher considers recent evidence about how children learn and questions whether current practice in Key Stage 1 optimises these ways of learning. Challenging the reliance on teacher directed activity she asks whether introducing more child initiated learning could offer children a more appropriate balance of learning opportunities. Key issues include The place of play in Key Stage 1. Organising the learning day to include child initiated activity. Observation and assessment. Planning. The role of the teacher. This essential book is indispensable reading for students and practitioners in both the Early Years Foundation Stage and Key Stage 1.

Michael Spector, Kinshuk, Pedro Isaias, Demetrios G. Sampson, 2010-11-13 This edited volume with selected expanded papers from CELDA Cognition and Exploratory Learning in the Digital Age 2009 <http://www.celda.conf.org> addresses the main issues concerned with problem solving, evolving learning processes, innovative pedagogies and technology based educational applications in the digital age. There have been advances in both cognitive psychology and computing that have affected the educational arena. The convergence of these two disciplines is increasing at a fast pace and affecting academia and professional practice in many ways. Paradigms such as just in time learning, constructivism, student centered learning and collaborative approaches have emerged and are being supported by technological advancements such as simulations, virtual reality and multi agents systems. These developments have created both opportunities and areas of serious concerns This volume aims to cover both technological as well as pedagogical issues related to these developments Online and Offline Modulators of Motor Learning Shahabeddin Vahdat,Ovidiu Lungu,Bradley King,Geneviève Albouy,Julien Doyon,2017-05-25 Both the acquisition of new and the modification of previously acquired motor skills are necessary to achieve optimal levels of motor performance in everyday functioning as well as to attain expert performance levels that are evident in sports and arts A multitude of factors have been shown to influence the various stages of the learning process from the acquisition i e motor memory encoding to the consolidation and subsequent retention of a skill These factors or modulators can affect learning through online processes taking place during practice of a new motor skill or through offline processes occurring in the absence of task performance i e after training sessions Although much of the recent research from various disciplines has placed an increased emphasis on identifying factors that can influence the motor learning process we lack an integrated understanding of online and offline determinants of motor skill behaviours Potential motor learning modulators include but are certainly not limited to stress anxiety attention executive functioning social interaction stimulus response mapping training schedule regimen learning environment vigilance consciousness states including sleep wakefulness or meditation brain stimulation interference as well as resting state brain connectivity Pathological and non pathological i e development or aging changes in the brain can also be conceptualized as potential modulators The aim of this Research Topic is to bridge research from the cognitive sensory motor and psychological domains using various behavioural paradigms and neuroimaging techniques in order to provide a comprehensive view of the online and offline modulators of motor learning and how they interact to influence motor performance Critically the overarching goal is to gain a better understanding of how motor behaviour can be optimized We believe that merging research from diverse neuroscientific communities would contribute to fulfilling this goal and potentially highlight possible shared neurophysiological mechanisms influencing motor learning Sustaining TEL: From Innovation to Learning and Practice Martin Wolpers,Paul A.
