Practice Of Cultural Analysis Exposing Interdisciplinary Interpretation:

The Practice of Cultural Analysis Mieke Bal, 2022 This volume presents an interdisciplinary approach to humanistic scholarship one that can be situated somewhere between cultural studies and cultural history while being more specific than either Cultural analysis as a critical practice is based on a keen awareness of the critic's situatedness in the present the social and cultural present from which we look and look back at objects that are already of the past objects that we take to define our present culture Thus it can be summarized by the phrase cultural memory in the present Far from being indifferent to history cultural analysis is devoted to understanding the past as part of the present as what we have around us The essays gathered here represent the current state of an emerging field of inquiry At the same time they suggest to the larger academic world what cultural analysis can and should do or be as an interdisciplinary practice The challenge for this volume is to counter the common assumption that interdisciplinarity makes the object of inquiry vague and the methodology muddled In meeting that challenge it offers close textual and visual readings of subjects ranging from Vermeer to abstract expressionism from the Book of Ruth to Djuna Barnes's Nightwood from the history of cinema to popular culture in Zaire The essays in Part I Don't Look Now Visual Memory in the Present explore in detailed case studies centered on the theme of visibility or looking the tricky consequences of the uncertainties regarding history that the presentness of the past entails Part II Close ups and Mirrors The Return of Close Reading with a Difference demonstrates and advocates listening to the object without the New Critical caveat that claims the text speaks for itself Instead the essays create the kind of dialogical situation that is a major characteristic of cultural analysis the text does not speak for itself but it does speak back The essays in Part III Method Matters Reflections on the Identity of Cultural Analysis do not propose any directions for use or authoritative statements on how to do cultural analysis Arranged in pairs of opposites the essays represent the kind of fruitful tension that stimulates debate Though no definite answers are proposed and conflicting views are left in conflict the essays stimulate a self reflection on cultural analysis its practices and its understandings

The Practice of Cultural Analysis Mieke Bal, Bryan Gonzales, 1999 Cultural analysis is devoted to understanding the past as part of the present as what we have around us The essays gathered here represent the current state of an emerging field of enquiry

Transformative Objects and the Aesthetics of Play Lynn M. Somers, 2024-12-26 This book considers the sculpture of Louise Bourgeois 1911-2010 in light of psychoanalyst D W Winnicott's 1896-1971 radical ideas regarding transitional objects potential space and play offering a model for exploring the complex and psychologically evocative work Bourgeois produced from 1947 to 2000 Critical concepts from British object relational theories destruction reparation integration relationality and play drawn from the writings of Winnicott Melanie Klein Marion Milner and Christopher Bollas among others bear upon the decades long study of psychoanalysis Bourgeois brought to her sculptural production that was symbolic metaphorical and most importantly useful The book demonstrates how Bourgeois's transformative sculptural objects and environments are invested in object relations both psychical and tangible and explores Bourgeois's contention that the observer physically engage with the intricate sculptural objects and architectural spaces she produced. Each chapter focuses on a key body of work: Femme Maison, Personages, Lairs, Janus and Cells, examining how these imaginative and playful objects are staged as embodied encounters in space and time to invoke the mutuality, reciprocity and ambivalence of our object relationships. Weaving a tapestry of aesthetic, cultural and psychological encounters, Transformative Objects and the Aesthetics of Play addresses critical relationships among Bourgeois's work and that of other artists from Pieter Brueghel to Eva Hesse. It brings together practical archival and theoretical material offering close examinations of historically situated objects and analyses of their complex affects and spatiality. Gathering critical perspectives from psychoanalysis, cultural analysis, feminist, queer, literary and affect studies, the book extends its specific art historical scope to investigate the crucial roles that art and cultural experience assume in everyday life.

Mary Kelly's Concentric Pedagogy Mary Kelly, 2024-01-25. Selected and introduced by Juli Carson, this book presents a collection of essential essays, interviews and never before published archival materials that trace the development of the teaching of major artist and thinker Mary Kelly from 1980-2017. As an artist and a theorist, Kelly is known for her foundational contributions to Feminism and Conceptual Art; she is also revered for her innovative pedagogy which has influenced countless artists, writers and teachers within the international art community. Her description of a feminist practice of concentric pedagogy, centred on the artwork rather than the mastery of the teacher, radically changed teaching practice in art studios. Detailing Kelly's innovative pedagogical program, the essays are split into three sections: The Method, which focuses on Kelly's renowned method of ethical observation within studio critique; The Project, which explores her notion of what constitutes an artistic project; and Project and Method in the Field, which presents for the first time a transcription of On the Passage of a Few People through a Rather Brief Period of Time, a performative colloquy commissioned by the Tate Modern and moderated by Kelly in 2015. Following this transcription is a portfolio of practicing artists previously enrolled in Kelly's Interdisciplinary Studio Area at UCLA. Mary Kelly's Concentric Pedagogy highlights how contemporary studio teaching practice has been largely informed by Kelly's bold and innovative approach to art pedagogy, evidencing how the intersection of teaching artistic practice and radical political engagement can transform our approach to all three. It is essential reading for students and teachers of art and design, studio practice, art history and theory, contemporary and feminist art.

Visual Politics of Psychoanalysis Griselda Pollock, 2013-10-08. Activists working in post-traumatic societies have tended to resist psychoanalytical terms because they fear that pathologizing individual suffering displaces the collective and political causes of traumatic violence. In a contrary direction, some thinkers about discourse and power have latterly embraced what Judith Butler insists is the psychic life of power. An openly psychoanalytical modelling of trauma for approaching major historical events such as the Holocaust adds yet a third position. Drawing on all three strands, this book poses the question of visual politics to psychoanalysis. It also explores the relevance of the many psychoanalyses to the study of art and other images in post traumatic conditions Visual Politics of Psychoanalysis builds on maverick art historian Aby Warburg's project of combining social cultural anthropological and psychological analyses of the image in order to track the undercurrents of cultural violence in the representational repertoire of Western modernity In this innovative collection a distinguished group of international authors dare to think psychoanalytically about the legacies of political violence and suffering in relation to post traumatic cultures worldwide Drawing on post colonial and feminist theory they analyse the image and the aesthetic in conditions of historical trauma from enslavement and colonisation to the Irish Famine from Denmark's national trauma about migrants and cartoons to collective shock after 9 11 from individual traumas of loss registered in allegory to newsreels and documentaries on suicide bombing in Israel Palestine from Kristeva's novels to Kathryn Bigelow's cinema

Naming the Witch James T. Siegel, 2006 Naming the Witch explores the recent series of witchcraft accusations and killings in East Java which spread as the Suharto regime slipped into crisis and then fell After many years of ethnographic work focusing on the origins and nature of violence in Indonesia Siegel came to the conclusion that previous anthropological explanations of witchcraft and magic mostly based on sociological conceptions but also including the work of E E Evans Pritchard and Claude Lévi Strauss were simply inadequate to the task of providing a full understanding of the phenomena associated with sorcery and particularly with the ideas of power connected with it Previous explanations have tended to see witchcraft in simple opposition to modernism and modernity enchantment vs disenchantment The author sees witchcraft as an effect of culture when the latter is incapable of dealing with accident death and the fear of the disintegration of social and political relations He shows how and why modernization and witchcraft can often be companions as people strive to name what has hitherto been unnameable
