Practicing Evaluation A Collaborative Approach:

Practicing Evaluation Rita G. O'Sullivan, 2004-02-04 With over 20 years of evaluation experience author Rita O Sullivan has created an approach that actively engages program stakeholders in the evaluation process Practicing Evaluation A Collaborative Approach contains strategies and techniques for conducting successful collaborative evaluations in a variety of program settings including education family support health and non profit organizations Although many evaluation textbooks cover the theory and steps of an evaluation they do not often include specifics regarding how to put these concepts into actual practice in a real world setting such as a school district or business Using actual cases from educational health and business settings O Sullivan shows readers how to better involve stakeholders in the evaluation process Collaborative Approaches to Evaluation J. Bradley Cousins, 2019-06-25 Editor J Bradley Cousins and colleagues meet the needs of evaluators seeking to implement collaborative and participatory approaches to evaluation in Collaborative Approaches to Evaluation Principles in Use Using a multi phase empirical process to develop and validate a set of principles to guide collaborative approaches to evaluation the book outlines the principles that the team developed and then provides case studies of how these principles have been applied in practice The case studies draw on programs globally in education health and community development The book is an invaluable supplementary text for program evaluation courses where students projects are focused on more collaborative and participatory approaches and it is an essential resource for practicing evaluators and those who commission program evaluations Diversifying the STEM Fields: From Individual to Structural Approaches Rodolfo Mendoza-Denton, Colette Patt, Adrienne R. Carter-Sowell, 2023-02-14 Evaluation Roots Marvin C. Alkin, Christina A. Christie, 2023-02-28 Major revision of a work that gives researchers the tools to select the right theory for their evaluation task Clearly lays out the goals of each theory how it translates into practice and the conditions under which it is best applicable Third edition has an increased focus on diversity equity and is organized around theories rather than individual theorists Top editors and contributors are highly regarded experienced evaluators Collaborative Evaluations in Practice Liliana Rodríguez-Campos, 2015-04-01 One of the reasons some groups are more effective than others is collaboration people implement evaluative decisions more willingly if they have collaborated on those decisions This book introduces real world applications of the Model for Collaborative Evaluations MCE in business nonprofit and education to make collaborative evaluations more accessible to you The MCE is a systematic framework that revolves around a set of six interactive components specific to conducting a collaborative evaluation It represents a practical attempt to capture the essence of collaborative evaluation from various perspectives in order to offer a valuable understanding of different stances that often arise when using this type of approach A multidisciplinary team of authors enriches the diverse perspectives of this book with their international and cross cultural expertise The intention is to share a deeper understanding of how this approach is applied to build collaborative relationships within an evaluation recognizing the level of collaboration will vary in each situation      Standards-Based and Responsive Evaluation Robert E. Stake, 2004 We can be grateful that Dr Stake decided to cap his distinguished career by sharing his ideas in writing This is a book that evaluators will want to have in their personal library It tells us a lot about our field highlights contrasting ways of evaluating without pitting one against the other and manages to remind us why many of us chose this line of work in the first place EVALUATION AND PROGRAM

PLANNING Authored by a master writer and evaluator Standards Based and Responsive Evaluation explores the many conceptual choices an evaluator needs to make when doing an evaluation devoting attention to stakeholders weighing ethical risks and writing a useful report The book begins with the main strategic choices an evaluator needs to make between approaches quantitatively by explicating criteria needs standards and performances or qualitatively by studying the activity aspirations problems and accomplishments of the participants and critical observers After reading the text students will have a better appreciation of evaluation as a process that needs to be custom fit to the situation Throughout the book Stake presents evaluation as a series of choices for the reader To remain independent or to join with program staff or stakeholders To value personal experience as evidence or to shun it as biased To aid development formatively or to assess the existing program summatively To use issues goals gains efficiency or problem solving as the key conceptual structure To invest small or large in trying out and validating data gathering procedures To support the standards and ethical codes of professional associations Standards Based and Responsive Evaluation will prove an essential text for program evaluation courses in education nursing social work psychology sociology communication and anthropology Experienced researchers and professional evaluators will also find this an invaluable reference for a more experiential interpretive approach to evaluation work and policy setting Key Features Provides readers with the tools they need to make choices while practicing evaluation Employs quotations poetry and cartoons to help the reader experience the concepts of evaluation Includes boxed examples from a variety of cases giving readers the opportunity to compare an actual evaluation situation with one in which they may be engaged Allows readers to access extensive examples of evaluation reports coding excerpts and more through a complementary Web site appendix      Evaluating Nonformal Education Programs and Settings Emma

Norland, Emmalou Norland, Cindy Somers, 2006-03-03 This volume explores the issues with which evaluators of nonformal education programs such as parks zoos community outreach organizations and museums struggle These issues are not unique to nonformal programs and settings Rather they pose different sets of problems and solutions from those that face evaluators of traditional education programs The authors address this topic from extensive experience as evaluators and education professionals who have worked in nonformal education settings Billions of dollars are spent annually on nonformal informal and nontraditional education programs and collaborative formal nonformal efforts Public and private dollars fund literally thousands of programs and yet the field of program evaluation has provided little guidance for evaluating such efforts There are precious few resources available to lead program administrators staff and evaluators through the maze of programs with the diversity of the constituencies that support them The stakeholders and audiences of nonformal education programs are numerous and these programs can range from a one shot hour long lecture to an ongoing one day a week volunteer program to a three week study tour to a four weekends across one year work camp to a stop by when you can museum collection
