Identification beyond Late Modern Individualism? Karl Inge Tangen, 2012-03-06 Why do some late modern churches grow counter to the trend in Western Europe Why do people identify with such churches and does identification lead to morally transforming commitments beyond late modern consumerism This case study investigates these questions based on real life or empirical research which include both the level of individual life strategies and organisational practice in two growing European churches This innovative and interdisciplinary study draws on recent findings in theology moral philosophy sociology and organisational psychology Its findings may prove useful not only for scholars in these disciplines it may also enrich the reflection of practitioners who seek to perform the difficult art of transformational leadership in a late modern context

Social Practices, Intervention and Sustainability Yolande Strengers, Cecily Maller, 2014-11-13 In an era of dramatic environmental change social change is desperately needed to curb burgeoning consumption Many calls to action have focused on individual behaviour or technological innovation with relative silence from the social sciences on other modes and methods of intervening in social life This book shows how we can go beyond behaviour change in the pursuit of sustainability Inspired by the practice turn in consumption studies this interdisciplinary book looks through the lens of social practice theory to explore important and timely questions about how to intervene in social life It discusses a range of applied sustainability topics including energy consumption housing provision water demand transport climate change curbside recycling and smart grids seeking to redefine what intervention is how it happens and who or what can intervene to address the growing list of environmental calamities facing contemporary societies These issues are explored through a range of specific case studies from Australia the UK and the US providing theoretical insights that are of international relevance The book will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of sociology consumption studies environmental studies geography and science and technology studies as well as policy makers and practitioners seeking to intervene in social life for sustainability Calendar, 1894 Demanding Energy Allison Hui, Rosie Day, Gordon Walker, 2017-11-17 This edited collection critically engages with an important but rarely asked question what is energy for This starting point foregrounds the diverse social processes implicated in the making of energy demand and how these change over time to shape the past patterns present dynamics and future trajectories of energy use Through a series of innovative case studies the book explores how energy demand is embedded in shared practices and activities within society such as going to music festivals cooking food travelling for business or leisure and working in hospitals Demanding Energy investigates the dynamics of energy demand in organisations and everyday life and demonstrates how an understanding of spatiality and temporality is crucial for grasping the relationship between energy demand and everyday practices This collection will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of energy climate change transport sustainability and sociologies and geographies of consumption and environment Chapters 1 and 15 of this book are available open access under a CC BY 4.0 license at link.springer.com

Challenges and Controversies in Management Research Bill Lee, Catherine Cassell, 2011-01-25 Challenges and Controversies in Management Research explores the history and cultural context current issues and controversies and potential development of research in the field of management The collection of essays is written by scholars of international standing and the chapters address the development of management research in one or another continent the need for global collaboration the current state of management research and the development of the business school setting in which that research takes place Factors affecting management research are explored in detail giving consideration to the relationship between teaching ethical conduct publication quality audits collegiality and research Contributions in the book also explore the development and usefulness of theories in management research and consider the relevance of management research and its applicability for management practice policy makers and the voluntary sector A final section of contributions explores the future challenges for management research including the realization of reflexivity the enduring gender bias of the management field the future of theory the patterns of development of new areas of management research and the need to manage large databases
