Pamphlets for the People Chapman Cohen, 1939 An Encyclopaedia of Freemasonry and Its Kindred Sciences Albert Gallatin Mackey, 1874 Rosicrucian Digest, 1939 The Melbourne Review, 1880 Philosophy of Education George Herbert Mead, Gert J. J. Biesta, Daniel Trohler, 2015-11-17 Never before published this book features George Herbert Mead's illuminating lectures on the Philosophy of Education at the University of Chicago during the early 20th century These lectures provide unique insight into Mead's educational thought and reveal how his early psychological writings on the social character of meaning and the social origin of reflective consciousness was central in the development of what Mead referred to as his social conception of education The introduction to the book provides an overview of Mead's educational thought and places it against the wider social intellectual and historical background of modern educational concepts

Prophetic Prayer Henry Trevor Hughes, 1947 Outside the Church many think that prayer is not concerned with daily life How far has a mistaken view of prayer inside the Church been responsible for this The writer believes that Christian spirituality has taken a wrong turn and he seeks to show by re planning the history of prophetic prayer from the earliest times to the Reformation that at its best prayer has been linked with life Though this is an historical survey the reader will be able to draw his own conclusions about the implication of such a view of prayer and its relevance to life today Publisher

Phenomenology of Religion Mariasusai Dhavamony, 1973 The object of the present work is mainly to serve as a text book for students of History of Religions or Historical Phenomenology of Religion at the University level This book intended also for the use of those who wish to become acquainted in a systematic and critical manner with the main themes of the History of Religions and of other persons who are either concerned in the education of youth or whose work it may be to present scientifically accurate conclusions with regard to the various subjects of the History of Religions There exist excellent text books which treat of particular religions or which contain chapters on individual religions without studying them comparatively or phenomenologically There are very few text books that attempt to present the main themes of the History of Religions in such a way as to explain the signification of the religious phenomena that are found in various religions by means of the historical comparative method Reader in comparative religion, an anthropological approach William Armand Lessa,1958
