Pre-Raphaelite Sisters Jan Marsh, Peter Funnell, Charlotte Gere, Pamela Gerrish Nunn, Alison Smith, 2019 For far too long the male protagonists of the Pre Raphaelite movement have dominated accounts of this revolution in British art This book aims to redress the balance in showing just how engaged and central women were to the endeavour as the subjects of the images themselves certainly but also in their production When the Pre Raphaelite Brotherhood the PRB exhibited their first works in 1849 it heralded a revolution in British art Styling themselves the Young Painters of England this group of young men aimed to overturn stale Victorian artistic conventions and challenge the previous generation with their startling colours and compositions Think of the images created by William Holman Hunt John Everett Millais Dante Gabriel Rossetti and others in their circle however and it is not men but pale faced young women with lustrous tumbling locks that spring to mind gazing soulfully from the picture frame or in dramatic scenes painted in glowing colours Who were these women What is known of their lives and their roles in a movement that in successive phases spanned over half a century Some were models plucked from obscurity to pose for figures in Pre Raphaelite paintings while others were sisters wives daughters and friends of the artists Several were artists themselves with aspirations to match those of the men sharing the same artistic and social networks yet condemned by their gender to occupy a separate sphere Others inhabited and sustained a male dominated art world as partners in production maintaining households and studios and socialising with patrons Some were skilled in the arts of interior decoration dressmaking embroidery jewellery making the fine crafts that formed a supportive tier for the higher arts of painting and sculpture And although their backgrounds and life experiences certainly varied widely all were engaged in creating Pre Raphaelite art

Reforming Women's

Fashion, 1850-1920 Patricia Anne Cunningham, 2003 This work focuses on the efforts toward reforming women's dress that took place in Europe and America in the latter half of the 18th century and the first decade of the 20th century and the types of garments adopted by women to overcome the challenges posed by fashionable dress. It considers the many advocates for reform and examines their motives, their arguments for change, and how they promoted improvements in women's fashion. Though there was no single overarching dress reform movement, it reveals similarities among the arguments posed by diverse groups of reformers, including especially the equation of reform with an ideal image of improved health. Drawing on a variety of primary and secondary sources in the USA and Europe, including the popular press, advice books for women, allopathic and alternative medical literature, and books on aesthetics, art, health, and physical education, the text makes a significant contribution to costume studies, social history, and women's studies.

The Pre-Raphaelite Art of the Victorian Novel Sophia Andres, 2005 A provocative interdisciplinary study of the Victorian novel and Pre-Raphaelite art, this book offers a new understanding of Victorian novels through Pre-Raphaelite paintings. Concentrating on Elizabeth Gaskell, Wilkie Collins, George Eliot, and Thomas Hardy, and aligning each novelist with specific painters, this work interprets narrative redrawings of Pre-Raphaelite paintings within a range of cultural contexts, as well as alongside recent theoretical work on gender. Letters, reviews, and journals convincingly reinforce the contentions about the novels and their connection with paintings. Featuring color reproductions of Pre-Raphaelite paintings, this book reveals the great achievement of Pre-Raphaelite art and its impact on the Victorian novel. Arguing for the direct relationship between Pre-Raphaelite painting and the Victorian novel, this book fills a gap in the currently available literature devoted to the Victorian novel, the Pre-Raphaelites, and the connection of Pre-Raphaelite art to Victorian poetry. Visual readings of the Victorian novel channel the twenty-first century reader's desire for the visual into the exploration of Pre-Raphaelite art in the Victorian novel, in the process offering fresh insights into the representation of gender in Victorian culture. Through a textual and a visual journey, this work reveals a new approach to the Victorian novel and Pre-Raphaelite art with profound implications for the study of both.

Pre-Raphaelite Women Continuum International Publishing Group, Limited, 2001-08 Christina Rossetti and Illustration Lorraine Janzen Kooistra, 2002 Lorraine Janzen Kooistra's reading of Rossetti's illustrated works reveals for the first time the visual-verbal aesthetic that was fundamental to Rossetti's poetics. Her thorough archival research brings to light new information on how Rossetti's commitment to illustration and attitudes toward copyright and control influenced her transactions with publishers and the books they produced.

The Pre-Raphaelite Sisterhood Jan Marsh, 2016-11-30 Who were the women who sat for the Pre-Raphaelite painters? Muses to an exclusively male genius of tragic stature and uncertain health, were they indeed as passive as their portrait painters and critics contrived to suggest? Jan Marsh reveals the actual lives behind the myth of the Pre-Raphaelite women: Elizabeth Siddal, Emma Brown, Annie Miller, Fannie Cornforth, Jane Morris, and Georgiana Burne-Jones. A meticulous testimony, this book at last records the rare vitality of these gifted and ambitious women, delivering them from a

Marsh, 1987 The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Victorian Women's Writing Lesa Scholl, Emily Morris, 2022-12-15 Since the late twentieth century there has been a strategic campaign to recover the impact of Victorian women writers in the field of English literature However with the increased understanding of the importance of interdisciplinarity in the twenty first century there is a need to extend this campaign beyond literary studies in order to recognise the role of women writers across the nineteenth century a time that was intrinsically interdisciplinary in approach to scholarly writing and public intellectual engagement The Journal of Pre-Raphaelite Studies ,2003
