Preaching And Culture Identity Proclaiming The Gospel In Africa:

Preaching and Cultural Identity John Wesley Zwomunondiita Kurewa, 2000 The thesis of this book is threefold 1 that the Church in Africa continues to affirm the preaching of the gospel of Jesus Christ 2 that the Church in Africa learns afresh to indigenize itself to the point that Christianity truly becomes an African religion and 3 that preaching in Africa needs to increasingly use African historical cultural traditional religious concepts imagery and idiom rather than missionary given Western forms in order to communicate the gospel more effectively in the new millennium Kurewa invites the African Church to take a closer look at African culture as God given rather than continuing to preach worship sing and counsel as if imitating Western missionaries Kurewa urges the African Church to claim its own culture with pride and integrity He gives examples on how specific customs can be integrated into Christian life worship and preaching The New Interpreter's® Handbook of Preaching, 2010-11-01 The New Interpreter's Handbook of Preaching is a major reference tool for preaching with articles on every facet of Christian sermon preparation and delivery This resource is both scholarly and practical It focuses on the most distinctive feature and greatest strength of homiletics as a discipline It is rooted in interdisciplinary scholarship and it develops theory geared to practice Its theory arises out of the study of both excellent preaching past and present and actual sermon preparation and composition When theory and practice critique each other it is possible to produce guidelines that assist greater excellence and economy in preaching the gospel Excellence in standards is an area in which homiletics needs to grow and this project will be both a means to encourage and develop it A guiding question throughout will be Will it preach The answers will be offered in the sense that here is something that works well rather than here is something to try Preachers will turn to this resource with the expectation that they will find scholarly treatment of topics brief bibliographies of relevant key books and articles along with practical methodological suggestions for preachers to employ The contributors are homileticians preachers and writers in various disciplines who are committed to the pulpit through practice

Introduction to Biblical Interpretation William W. Klein, Craig L. Blomberg, Robert L.
