Pregnancy Welsh:

Congenital Abnormalities and Preterm Birth Related to Maternal Illnesses During Pregnancy Nándor

Ács, Ferenc G. Bánhid, Andrew E. Czeizel, 2010-07-05 The major objective of our studies in the last decade was a systematic analysis of maternal diseases during pregnancy to reveal their possible adverse effects on birth outcomes The two most important factors of infant mortality were partially analyzed structural birth defects known as congenital abnormalities CAs and preterm birth PB In general the objectives of scientific studies might be either to test a new hypothesis or to confirm or confront previously published results However less frequently the authors scientists have personal motivations determined by their professional activities The authors of this book are practicing physicians and genetic epidemiologist who are mainly interested in the following three practical questions 1 The possible adverse effects of pharmaceutical products The possible teratogenic potential of about 170 drugs has been evaluated very thoroughly using the data set of the Hungarian Case Control Surveillance of Congenital Abnormalities HCCSCA in the last 50 years These drugs were used to treat maternal diseases and the findings of our population based case control studies will be cited in this book and are shown in the Appendix at the end of the book However our long experiences showed two problems in the drug teratology In general the evaluation of clinical doses of these drugs is a particularly difficult challenge due to the modification effects of confounders This problem motivated one of the authors to establish a new model of disaster epidemiology
