Prehistoric Stone Circles Shire Archaeology:

Prehistoric Stone Circles Aubrey Burl, 1986 The Prehistoric Peak Andrew Johnstone, 2010-10-25 THE PREHISTORIC PEAK is a practical guide to discovering and exploring the Neolithic and Bronze Age monuments of the Peak District not with the intention of explaining their origins but to encourage everyone to go and see them for themselves as they are today After all they are located in some of the most spectacular landscapes available to us in Britain today and make fascinating destinations for journeys that are about experiencing all the wonders of the world around us Each site has been personally visited by the author and is described through photographs ground plans of what can be seen today custom maps with step by step clear concise directions on how to find each one and all the necessary GPS and OS grid references It also includes practical advice on how to make your exploration of the Prehistoric Peak as pleasurable and safe as possible How the Neolithics Influenced Rock 'n' Roll Andrew Johnstone, 2010-10-13 This book sets out to explore the connections between megalithic monuments and Rock n Roll music by first addressing what the megalithic structures would have originally meant to the builders and users of these sites and at the statements they were making at that time It then looks at how Rock n Roll artists have incorporated images of these monuments into album cover designs by looking at specific examples in an attempt to understand why despite being separated by millennia from the original builders they chose to use such places to represent the statements they are making through their music in the late 20th and early 21st centuries Stone Circles Colin Richards, Vicki Cummings, 2024-08-27 The definitive guide to the stone circles of Britain and Ireland From Stonehenge and the Ring of Brogdar to the Rollright Stones and Avebury the British and Irish Isles are scattered with the stone circles of our prehistoric ancestors Although there have been many theories to explain them to this day there is no consensus about their purpose Colin Richards and Vicki Cummings provide a clear and illuminating field guide to 424 key stone circle sites in Britain and Ireland Organised by region this handy volume sets out the features of these megalithic monuments including their landscape position construction and physical properties The authors take stock of cutting edge research and recent excavations stone circles that were previously lost to time They present new insights on the chronology composition and roles of different circles to transform our understanding the sites Beautifully illustrated with photographs maps and plans this is an essential guide to Britain and Ireland s most mysterious prehistoric monuments Building the Great Stone Circles of the North Colin Richards, 2013-11-30 Of all prehistoric monuments few are more emotive than the great stone circles that were built throughout Britain and Ireland From the tall elegant pointed monoliths of the Stones of Stenness to the grandeur of Stonehenge and the sarsen blocks at Avebury circles of stone exert a magnetic fascination to those who venture into their sphere In Britain today more people visit these structures than any other form of prehistoric monument and visitors stand in awe at their scale and question how and why they were erected Building the Great Stone Circles of the North looks at the enigmatic stone structures of Scotland and investigates the background of their construction and their cultural significance Art as Metaphor Aron D. Mazel, George Nash, Clive Waddington, 2007 Enigmatic esoteric and fascinating the rock art of the British Isles has for a long time been a well kept secret This volume brings together a carefully selected collection of papers reporting on recent discoveries and regional surveys covering British prehistoric rock art from over 10 000 years ago Fieldwork for Archaeologists and Local Historians Anthony Ernest Brown, 1987 Bulletin of the Institute of Archaeology University of London. Prehistoric Britain from the Air Timothy Darvill, 1996-07-04 This book provides a bird s eye look at the monumental achievements of Britain s earliest inhabitants Arranged thematically it illustrates and describes a wide selection of archaeological sites and landscapes dating from between 500 000 years ago and the Roman conquest Timothy Darvill brings to life many of the familiar sites and monuments that prehistoric communities built and exposes to view many thousands of sites that simply cannot be seen at ground level Throughout the book he makes a unique application of social archaeology to the field of aerial photography Journal of the Royal Historical and Archaeological Association of Ireland Royal Society of Antiquaries of Ireland, 1897 Index of archaeological papers published in 1891 under the direction of the Congress of Archaeological Societies in union with the Society of Antiquaries Prehistoric Henges Aubrey Burl, 1991 Stonehenge is only one of almost a hundred vast circular earthworks built in Britain and Ireland over five thousand years ago Known as henges they remain one of the mysteries of prehistoric Britain With their overgrown banks and weathered ditches they attract few visitors Yet discoveries have revealed fascinating glimpses of the beliefs of their builders Excavations have unearthed grim evidence of forgotten rituals a child s sacrifice at Woodhenge a human burial at the centre of Arbor Low winter moonlight at Stonehenge Such things hint at the power and importance that these huge enclosures once had The effort needed to raise these spacious rings of earth or chalk the careful planning of their entrances the settings of stone or timber inside them and the avenues leading uphill from nearby rivers all make henges among the most exciting and intriguing of the ancient monuments of the British Isles Back cover Proceedings of the Somersetshire Archaeological and Natural History Society Somersetshire Archaeological and Natural History Society, 1883 Prehistoric Orkney Anna Ritchie, 1995 An evocative look at the ancient Scottish monuments and what they reveal about the Orcadian way of life from the earliest farmers around 4000 BC to the Viking onslaught of AD 800 Journal of the British Archaeological Association British Archaeological Association, 1883 The Journal of the British Archaeological Association , 1883 The Ancient Stone Implements, Weapons and Ornaments of Great Britain John Evans, 1897 Archiv für Anthropologie , 1897 Archiv für Anthropologie, Völkerforschung und kolonialen Kulturwandel , 1888
