Arturo Almandoz

Second Conquest Of Latin America:

The Second Conquest of Latin America Steven C. Topik, Allen Wells, 2010-02-01 Between 1850 and 1930 Latin America's integration into the world economy through the export of raw materials transformed the region. This encounter was nearly as dramatic as the conquistadors' epic confrontation with Native American civilizations centuries before. An emphasis on foreign markets and capital replaced protectionism and self-sufficiency as the hemisphere's guiding principles. In many ways the means employed during this period to tie Latin America more closely to western Europe and North America resemble strategies currently in vogue. Much can be learned from analyzing the first time that Latin Americans embraced export-led growth. This book focuses on the impact of three key export commodities: coffee, henequen, and petroleum. The authors concentrate on these rather than on national economies because they illustrate more concretely the interaction between the environment, natural and human resources, and the world economy. By analyzing how different products spun complex webs of relationships with their respective markets, the essays in this book illuminate the tensions and contradictions found in the often conflictive relationship between the local and the global, between agency and the not-so-invisible hand. Ultimately, the contributors argue that the results of the second conquest were not one-sided, as Latin Americans and foreigners together forged a new economic order, one riddled with contradictions that Latin America is still attempting to resolve today.

Planning Latin America's Capital Cities 1850-1950 Arturo Almandoz, 2002-08-08 In this first comprehensive work in English to describe the building of Latin America's capital cities in the postcolonial period, Arturo Almandoz and his contributors demonstrate how Europe and France, in particular, shaped their culture, architecture, and planning until the United States began to play a part in the 1930s. The book provides a new perspective on international planning.

Rethinking Revolutions from 1905 to 1934 Stefan Berger, Klaus Weinbauer, 2022-12-13 This edited collection offers a timely and original perspective on the many upheavals and revolutions that broke out across the world during the early twentieth century. With previous research tending to confine revolutions within national borders, this book sets out to place them within a broader global sphere of thought and action. The authors explore the time phase between the Russian Revolution of 1905 and the Asturian Revolution of 1934, including cases from South Africa, Australia, China, the Middle East, and Latin America. Providing insights from leading scholars in the field, this collection highlights the interconnectedness and transnationalism of upheavals and revolutions, offering a new approach which integrates political, social, and cultural history. Hubert Howe Bancroft, 1887 Studies in the Formation of the Nation-state in Latin America James Dunkerley, 2002

This book adopts a variety of disciplinary thematic and country based approaches to the complex and contested issues around the character of the nation state in Latin America. In recent years there has been a great deal of scholarly interest in this topic from the viewpoint of cultural and literary studies but Latin America remains under represented in general historical and sociological theories of nationhood. The authors seek to develop debate and research on the topic through case studies including Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Peru and Spain, historiographical review and themes such as the role of violence, military conscription and pensions, money and the role of finance, early notions of development, the ambiguous role of liberalism and how to evaluate the reach and qualities of the nation state. Contributors include Miguel Angel Centeno, Princeton University; Malcolm Deas, St Antony's College, Oxford; James Dunkerley, Institute of Latin American Studies, University of London; Paul Gootenberg, State University of New York at Stony Brook; Alan Knight, St Antony's College, Oxford; Colin Lewis, London School of Economics; Fernando L.pez Alves, University of California, Santa Barbara; David McCreery, Georgia State University; Florencia Mallon, University of Wisconsin; Seemin Qayum, Goldsmiths College, University of London; Guy Thomson, University of Warwick; and Steven Topik, University of California, Irvine. James Dunkerley is director of the Institute of Latin American Studies, University of London and also professor of politics at Queen Mary University of London. He is coeditor of the Journal of Latin American Studies. His most recent books are Americana: The Americas in the World around 1850 or Seeing the Elephant as the Theme for an Imaginary Western (2000) and Warriors and Scribes: Essays in the History and Politics of Latin America (2000).
