- “The media (or the mass media) refers to all forms of written communications to the public, such as newspapers, magazines and books and to all forms of transmitted communication, such as radio, television, cinema and the Internet. Critique of Information Scott Lash, 2002-01-21 This penetrating book raises questions about how power operates in contemporary society It explains how the speed of information flows has eroded the separate space needed for critical reflection It argues that there is no longer an outside to the global flows of communication and that the critique of information must take place within the information itself The operative unit of the information society is the idea With the demise of depth reflection reflexivity through the idea now operates external to the subject in its circulation through networks of humans and intelligent machines It is these ideas that make the critique of information possible This book is a major testament to the prospects of culture politics and theory in the global information society Global Culture Industry Scott Lash,Celia Lury,2007-04-23 Tells the story of how material objects such as watches and sports wear have become powerful cultural symbols and how the production of symbols in the form of globally recognized brands has become a central goal of capitalism This book is suitable for students and scholars across the social sciences International Communication Daya Kishan Thussu,2006-07-28 This bestselling text is a unique introduction to the complex political economic and technological context in which multinational media and culture operates With new case studies and pedagogical features the book is compulsory reading for all media and communication studies students Social Computing Subhasish Dasgupta,2010-01-01 With an increasing accessibility to social networking tools the development of Web 2 0 and the emergence of virtual worlds social computing crosses cultural boundaries to join people in the digital landscape Social Computing Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications uncovers the growing and expanding phenomenon of human behavior social constructs and communication in online environments This multiple volume publication presents the latest research on social change evolving networks media and interaction with technology to offer audiences a comprehensive view of the impact of social computing on the way cultures think act and exchange information Transatlantic Encounters: Multiculturalism, national identity, and the uses of the past David Keith Adams,Maurizio Vaudagna,Günter H. Lenz,Peter J. Ling,2000 Discussions about fundamental historical events of the past century have invaded the public domain Public opinion and policy makers ask framers of the public image of the past to provide guidance reassurance and legitimisation Increasing social heterogeneity and cultural difference force us to revise our traditional concepts of culture and examine the public social and pedagogical implications of multiculturalism in an explicitly comparative perspective This book explores how history has been used to support or oppose the political orders of our century as well as its great themes and how historians have dealt with issues of scholarly objectivity personal beliefs and public commitment Historein ,2004 The Postmodern Presence Arthur Asa Berger,1998 Instead of summing up the various perspectives of scholars and the variety of ideas to which the term postmodernism has been assigned this text lets this diversity speak for itself By bringing together articles and essays on the impact of the postmodern temper on an eclectic range of subjects Berger presents a few of the many ways different theorists have come to terms with postmodernism while examining manifestations of postmodernism in the culture of everyday life New Statesman Society ,1995-05 Javnost ,1999 Sights of Contestation Kwok-kan Tam,Wimal Dissanayake,Terry Siu-han Yip,2002 The fourteen essays presented in this volume examine the diverse ways in which cultural products are shaped and re shaped in public spaces in China Taiwan Hong Kong Japan and some other countries in the Pacific in their continuing encounters with the forces of localism and globalism Various theories of globalisation have been proposed since the 1970s to predict the trend of development toward homogenisation and explain the tensions hitherto created However diverse the theories may be there is one fact that assumes the form of a challenge As the world has become seemingly less and less divergent in its shrinkage the traditional categories of cultural division and opposition such as the East versus the West may no longer be adequate in analysing the world we live in today Paradoxically enough this very shrinkage and restructuring of the world has the effect of focusing more sharply on questions of localism identity and cultural roots This is in fact a moment in history when the local and the global are co implicated in complex and unanticipated ways How do cultural workers who are primarily writers intellectuals journalists filmmakers and educators in Asia and the Pacific respond to this challenging phenomenon How do they conceptualise it What are the prospects and problems they foresee with regard to their own societies and cultures These are questions of utmost significance as one seeks to come to terms with East Asia and the emerging Pacific as a space of contestation and resistance in the global local process of cultural production The fourteen essays collected in this book certainly represent the views of some of the prominent scholars in the region Text and Practice Ronald B.
