John D. Caputo, 2000-07-22 In these spirited essays John D Caputo continues the project he launched with Radical Hermeneutics of making hermeneutics and deconstruction work together Caputo claims that we are not born into this world hard wired to know Being Truth or the Good and we are not vessels of a Divine or other omnipotent supernatural force Focusing on how various contemporary philosophers develop aspects of this fragmented view of the life world in areas such as madness friendship democracy gender science the end of ethics religion and mysticism this animated study by one of America s leading continental philosophers shakes the foundations of religion and philosophy even as it gives them new life

Phenomenologies of the Stranger Richard Kearney, Kascha Semonovitch, 2011 What is strange Or better who is strange When do we encounter the strange This volume takes the question of hosting the Stranger to the deeper level of embodied imagination and the senses It asks How does the embodied imagination relate to the Stranger in terms of hospitality or hostility given the common root of hostis as both host and enemy How do humans sense the dimension of the strange and alien in different religions arts and cultures How do the five physical senses relate to the spiritual senses especially the famous sixth sense as portals to an encounter with the Other Is there a carnal perception of alterity which would operate at an affective prereflective preconscious level What exactly do embodied imaginaries of hospitality and hostility entail And what finally are the topical implications of these questions for an ethics and practice of tolerance and peace

De Oratione Dominica, 2012 This rather short text by Eckhart has been available in a critical edition for decades but has been rarely read and studied regarded by its editor as a mediocre piece of the young Eckhart It is indeed a strangely looking work almost entirely a cut and paste piece from Thomas Aquinas Golden Chain A close study of Eckhart s commentary however gives insights into his reception of the Patristic tradition his dealing with Thomas choice and provides a masterpiece of Eckhart s teaching on prayer He himself held his work in high regard and used it when writing trinitarian homilies

Adventures in Prayer Noel O'Donoghue, 2004 One of the most respected and adventurous of writers on the mystical traditions of Christianity himself a Carmelite Noel Dermot O Donoghue has gathered together his definitive reflections on the three great mystical doctors of the Catholic Church St Teresa of Avila Women of Vision St John of the Cross Man of Fire and St Therese of Lisieux Child of the Little Way These inter related and inter woven essays are the mature fruit of a lifetime written in the richly poetic way that readers have come to associate with this modern master of Celtic Christianity East and West Series, 1976 Largely composed of excerpts from the writings of T L Vaswani Poetry and Prayer William T.

Noon, 1967 The Magic of Prayer M. D. Faber, 2002 This comprehensive psychological and naturalistic analysis of prayer offers an alternative to William James s model of prayer represented in his work The Varieties of Religious Experience which links supplication to the divine or supernatural realm Through his examination of prayer and its connection to faith Faber also analyzes religious faith psychologically and anthropologically concluding that subjective prayer is finally an instance of homeopathic magical conduct It ritualistically conjures up according to the author a version of the first primal biological situation in which the dependent little one cries out to a parental big one for physical and emotional nourishment Eventually religion and its expression of faith through prayer provides us with a magical protective presence that is natural in its return to the primal rather than supernatural as James argues in its presence and existence The very instructional details of individual prayer Faber argues are unconsciously designed to recreate the magical alliance through which our existence on the planet commences and goes forward Over and over again dozens of times each day thousands of times each year the little one asks and the big one sees to it that the little one receives Such asking and receiving is the central feature of a child s existence As we internalize this reality and seek to re create it in our adult lives religious conviction and faith as it comes through prayer helps us to achieve a sense of security and a psychic return to the parental alliance Faber s compelling arguments will challenge readers to consider prayer and faith as a magical circle of religious belief and to examine afresh the underlying nature of supplication Special Double Issue ,2003 Crossings ,2003
