Preaching For These People:

Preaching and the Human Condition Prof O. Wesley Allen JR., 2016-10-18 In the wake of Enlightenment emphasis on the individual and confidence in human progress ability sermons often suffer from a lack of adequate analysis and presentation of the human condition The result is that preachers either 1 intentionally or unintentionally offer self help type messages or 2 fail to help hearers experience the breadth of the good news of Jesus Christ because the bad news of the world is not presented with weight In this work the author proposes to use the pericope in which Jesus is asked about the greatest commandment Mk 12 28 31 as a lens for preachers exploring the human condition cumulatively from three different perspectives across the course of their preaching week in and week out Love God suggests a perspective in which the human condition is seen in relation to a broken relationship between humanity and God vertical Love neighbor suggests a perspective in which the broken relationship is between humans and others horizontal And as yourself suggests a brokenness in relationship to one's self inner While different theological schools have emphasized these perspectives differently as the starting points for their anthropology views of sin etc all schools include all three perspectives In individual chapters the author will unpack these three perspectives theologically move to suggest practical homiletical approaches to preaching in relation to each perspective and provide a sample sermon dealing with that perspective The Pastor's Care and Dignity, and the People's Duty. the Prophets for All Their Worth Andrew G. M. Hamilton, 2022-05-24 The Old Testament prophetic books play a key role in revealing God's plan of salvation. They occupy a significant portion of the biblical canon similar in size to the entire New Testament. Yet most believers stay clear of this part of Scripture. They avoid traveling through this forest of oracles and visions. Many preachers also struggle to navigate this unfamiliar territory. Preachers feel much more at ease unpacking the intricate arguments of the Pauline epistles or following the thrilling adventures of biblical narratives rather than exploring the prophetic books. The church however needs to hear and respond to the beauty, depth and relevance of the prophetic message. This book not only provides convincing reasons for preaching the prophets today but also offers concrete guidelines to empower preachers, small group leaders, youth workers etc to communicate the message of the prophets with hermeneutical precision, theological depth, genre sensitivity and pastoral pulse. This book motivates and equips preachers to travel with confidence through this uncharted territory and to help God's people enjoy the scenery of this part of God's word.
