Prefab Kid A Postwar Childhood In Kent:

The Prefab Kid Gregory Holyoake,1999 The Spartan fifties with their shortages and continued wartime rationing were a bleak time for adults but for children the decade was a magical era the last perhaps of true childhood innocence Gregory Holyoake the Prefab Kid has total recall of his earliest years when he was lovingly indulged by his doting Mum and Gran He writes of his cozy prefab home his toys the games he played picnics and outings Saturday morning pictures school and the arrival of television The frailties and foibles of the grown ups are brilliantly observed through the eyes of a small boy whose sparkling memories will enchant all who share them

Prefab Homes Elisabeth Blanchet,2014-10-10 At the end of the Second World War Winston Churchill promised to manufacture half a million prefabricated bungalows to ease the housing shortage in the end more than 156 000 temporary prefabs were delivered Nicknamed Palaces for the People and with convenient kitchens bathrooms and heating systems they proved popular and instead of being demolished as intended they were defended by residents who campaigned to keep their family homes and communities Nearly seventy years later as the last of these two bedroom homes are being demolished Elisabeth Blanchet tells the story of these popular dwellings and their gardens and shows the various designs that were produced Through the stories and memories of residents she also reveals the communities who were pleased to live in the prefabs
