The Architecture of Ancient Greece William Bell Dinsmoor, 1973 Studies in Hellenistic Architecture Frederick E. Winter, Janos Fedak, 2006-01-01 Studies in Hellenistic Architecture is a detailed analysis of the development of the major building types of the Hellenistic age the mid fourth century B C to the time of the Roman conquest of the Eastern Mediterranean In this meticulous work Frederick E Winter reveals how the architects of the period went beyond anything achieved by their Classical Greek predecessors and how these impressive skills prepared the way for many of Rome's later architectural achievements Geographically the monuments included in this volume extend from Spain to Afghanistan and from Provence to North Africa Winter discusses the architectural achievements of the various regional styles of the Eastern Mediterranean and takes a detailed look at Hellenistic developments west of the Adriatic While the interrelationship of these regional developments is often unclear especially in cases where there are no explicit criteria for dating Winter makes excellent use of the advance in scholarship over the past fifty to sixty years offering the first real attempt at a synthesis of this vast subject Studies in Hellenistic Architecture is an invaluable resource containing a wealth of illustrations of the various types of Hellenistic building and the most comprehensive scholarship to date on the topic Journal of the Royal Institute of British Architects Royal Institute of British Architects, 1951 New Directions and Paradigms for the Study of Greek Architecture, 2019-11-26 New Directions and Paradigms for the Study of Greek Architecture comprises 20 chapters by nearly three dozen scholars who describe recent discoveries new theoretical frameworks and applications of cutting edge techniques in their architectural research The contributions are united by several broad themes that represent the current directions of study in the field i.e the organization and techniques used by ancient Greek builders and designers the use and life history of Greek monuments over time the communication of ancient monuments with their intended audiences together with their reception by later viewers the mining of large sets of architectural data for socio economic inference and the recreation and simulation of audio visual experiences of ancient monuments and sites by means of digital technologies
