Library,1971 Changing Minds, If Not Hearts James M. Glaser,Timothy J. Ryan,2013-08-21 Americans preach egalitarianism but democracy makes it hard for minorities to win Changing Minds If Not Hearts explores political strategies that counteract the impulse of racial majorities to think about racial issues as a zero sum game in which a win for one group means a loss for another James M Glaser and Timothy J Ryan argue that although political processes often inflame racial tensions the tools of politics also can alleviate conflict Through randomized experiments conducted in South Carolina California Michigan Mississippi Oklahoma and New Jersey Glaser and Ryan uncover the racial underpinnings of disputes over affirmative action public school funding initiatives Confederate flag displays on government buildings reparations and racial profiling The authors examine whether communities rife with conflict endorse different outcomes when issues are cast in different terms for example by calling attention to double standards evoking alternate conceptions of fairness and justice or restructuring electoral choices to offer voters greater control Their studies identify a host of tools that can help overcome opposition to minority interests that are due to racial hostility Even in communities averse to accommodation even where antipathy and prejudice linger minorities can win With clearly presented data and compelling prose Changing Minds If Not Hearts provides a vivid and practical illustration of how academic theory can help resolve conflicts on the ground The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1910 Hate Crime Nathan Hall,2013-07-24 Since the publication of the first edition of Hate Crime in 2005 interest in this subject as a scholarly and political domain has grown considerably both in Britain and

North America but significantly also in many other parts of the world As such this second edition fully revises and updates the content of the first but within a broader international context Building on the success of the first edition this accessible cross disciplinary text also includes a wider range of international issues and addresses new and emerging areas of concern within the field The book will be of particular interest to academics undergraduate and postgraduate students criminal justice practitioners and policy makers working within the area of hate crime and related fields of crime social justice and diversity It will also be of value to others who may hold a more general interest in what is undoubtedly a rapidly evolving and increasingly important area of contemporary and global social concern
