Israel's Past Bob Becking, 2021-10-04 How should one write a history of Ancient Israel In the last few decades a lively discussion has taken place on the historiography of ancient Israel Minimalists such as Philip Davies Thomas Thompson and Niels Peter Lemche challenged the usefulness of the Hebrew Bible as a source for constructing Israel's past Maximalists like Baruch Halpern and William Dever argued instead that the data from the Hebrew Bible should be trusted until otherwise proven Others among whom we can name Hans Barstad Rainer Albertz and Lester Grabbe took a third road The essays in this volume follow that third road by applying insights from the field of philosophy of history A dozen case studies from David to the earliest Samaritans demonstrate how difficult it is to write a history of ancient Israel without falling in the abyss of an ideology in one direction or another The matrix designed by Manfred Weippert to look at the past through five windows landscape climate archaeology epigraphy and only at the end the Hebrew Bible turned out to be more helpful The conclusion of this research is that there are some stable pillars in the swamp of the past but it comes with the warning that the space between these pillars is large and cannot easily be filled

Settlement and Society in the Early Bronze Age I and II, Southern Levant Alexander H. Joffe, 1993 This book discusses the development of indigenous patterns of small scale complexity during the Early Bronze I and II periods ca 3500 2700 BCE in the Southern Levant Aspects of methodology are outlined including an assessment of archaeological surveys and their limitations The book discusses the background to the emergence of complex societies during the fourth and third millennia BCE suggesting that the Southern Levant was preadapted to cycles of rising and collapsing complexity by mechanisms of social decomposition and reformulation Using settlement pattern data as a focal point the book synthesizes the available data for the emergence of Early Bronze II urbanism and trade oriented economies in the Southern Levant from Early Bronze I village level organization stressing the importance of intersocietal contacts Mediterranean crop production and highland lowland exchange The book is designed to synthesize the evidence for early urban development in the Southern Levant and to situate the discussion in terms generally associated with the large core civilizations of Mesopotamia and Egypt It therefore addresses issues of interest to scholars working in the Southern Levant as well as those seeking cross cultural perspectives on early complex societies
