Secret Eye The Journal Of Ella Gertrude Clanton Thomas 1848 1889:

The Secret Eye Ella Gertrude Clanton Thomas, 2014-03-19 The journal of Ella Gertrude Clanton Thomas spanning the years from 1848 to 1889 is rare for its treatment of both the Civil War and postbellum years and for its candor and detail in treating these eras Thomas who was born to wealth and privilege and reared in the tradition of the southern belle tells of the hard days of war and the poverty brought on by emancipation and Reconstruction Her entries illuminate experiences shared with thousands of other southern women Hidden Histories of Women in the New South Virginia Bernhard, 1994 Representing some of the best and most recent scholarly work in the field the subjects of these essays reflect the diversity of southern women's lives Women in prisons in mental institutions in labor unions women activists for temperance suffrage birth control and civil rights women at home and in public life all add their individual histories to help reshape the terrain of the American past Georgia's Remarkable Women Sara Hines Martin, 2015-11-01 Georgia's Remarkable Women Daughters Wives Sisters and Mothers Who Shaped History recognizes the women who helped to shape the Peach State Female teachers writers entrepreneurs and artists from across the state are illuminated through short biographies and archival photographs and paintings Setting their own standards and following their passions they continue to inspire new generations with their achievements Meet Rebecca Latimer Felton the first woman to sit as a U S senator Juliette Gordon Low the resilient founder of the Girl Scouts Sarah Freeman Clarke a painter who dared to pursue art and literature as a career Gertrude Ma Rainey the Mother of the Blues whose voice transcended race and class and Margaret Mitchell author of the enduring tale of survival Gone with the Wind Mothers of Invention Drew Gilpin Faust, 2004-01-01 Exploring privileged Confederate women's wartime experiences this book chronicles the clash of the old and the new within a group that was at once the beneficiary and the victim of the social order of the Old South The Journal of Mississippi History, 1990 Includes section Book reviews Keep the Days Steven M. Stowe, 2018-04-02 Americans wrote fiercely during the Civil War War surprised devastated and opened up imagination taking hold of Americans words as well as their homes and families The personal diary wildly ragged yet rooted in day following day was one place Americans wrote their war Diaries then have become one of the best known most used sources for exploring the life of the mind in a war torn place and time Delving into several familiar wartime diaries kept by women of the southern slave owning class Steven Stowe recaptures their motivations to keep the days close even as war tore apart the brutal system of slavery that had benefited them Whether the diarists recorded thoughts about themselves their opinions about men or their observations about slavery race and warfare Stowe shows how these women by writing the immediate moment found meaning in a changing world In studying the inner lives of these unsympathetic characters Stowe also explores the importance and the limits of historical empathy as a condition for knowing the past demonstrating how these plain first draft texts can offer new ways to make sense of the world in which these Confederate women lived Mit den Dingen leben Anke Ortlepp, Christoph Ribbat, 2010 Ax corset and sewing machine

what do everyday objects reveal about a community What significance do they have in history In American cultural studies particularly nothing is too small no object too primitive to become the subject of historical research In a methodologically and theoretically innovative way the contributions to this volume show how national identity but also gender and ethnicity are significantly influenced by material culture Everyday objects thus gain a key role in cultural history Against this background this volume makes key texts from the American cultural debate accessible to the German speaking readership

Chronologically organized it pursues the Thing History of the 19th and 20th Centuries Through Random Doors We Wandered Clara Juncker, 2002 This book brings together a group of women interested in even consumed by the region they inhabit physically or mentally All of them search for a language that will accurately represent their life experiences whether at a remote plantation in antebellum Georgia or in an Alabama institution for the criminally insane This book contains critical essays on the autobiographical writings of southern women from the past and present and women well known such as Mary Chesnut Fanny Kemble and Alice Walker to those less well known such as Kate Stone The self narratives critiqued in this volume propel themselves and their authors to the center of critical debates concerning the status of the subject the nature of self representation the globalization of the regional cultural hybridities and the negotiations and compromises required for co existence Read through theoretical lenses their texts map new representational spaces alternative textual bodies and reinventions of categories such as region race and women Journal of American Culture, 1990 The Berkeley

Undergraduate Journal, 1991 The Journal of Military History, 1990 Includes scholarly articles and book reviews on topics in military history How Curious a Land Jonathan M. Bryant, 1996 How Curious a Land Conflict and Change in Greene County Georgia 1850 1885 The Day Dixie Died Th Goodrich, Debra Goodrich, 2001 As the North celebrated the end of the Civil War the South mourned It was about to enter a period of extreme turmoil reconstruction The authors trace that period that pervaded through 1866 30 photos The News-letter of the Society for the Study of Southern Literature Society for the Study of Southern Literature, 1990 Southern Studies, 1998 An interdisciplinary journal of the South

The Claims of Kinfolk Dylan C. Penningroth, 2003 Claims of Kinfolk African American Property and Community in the Nineteenth Century South The Black Worker Eric Arnesen, 2007 Contains eleven essays that address issues faced by African American workers since the late nineteenth century such as economic insecurity the rise and fall of NAACP and the civil rights movement The Shaping of Southern Culture Bertram Wyatt-Brown, 2001 Shaping of Southern Culture Honor Grace and War 1760s 1880s Southern Writers and Their Worlds Christopher Charles Morris, Steven G.

Reinhardt, 1996 These five essays from the Walter Prescott Webb Memorial Lectures explore the many ways Southern writers have shaped and been shaped by their region Susan A Eacker explains how South Carolinian essayist and poet Louisa McCord came to believe slavery was necessary and good within a world that would forever be inhabited by violent men and physically but not intellectually defenseless women Christopher Morris examines the relationship between the economic development in the South and the humor of writers such as Augustus B Longstreet and Johnson Jones Hooper Bertram Wyatt Brown discusses the connection between depression and literary creativity This relationship has had both glorious and tragic consequences for Southern letters glorious for the many outstanding achievements by Southern writers tragic for the literature that might have been but for the prolonged depression drunkenness and early death met by so many of them Anne Goodwyn Jones s contribution is a penetrating deconstruction of gender in the Southern literary renaissance while Charles Joyner offers an eloquent look at Nat Turner s insurrection of 1831 and William Styron s 1967 novel about the event providing a much needed reassessment of Styron s controversial decision to write The Confessions of Nat Turner in the first person
