O'Sullivan, 2001 When Joe Leaphorn and Jim Chee Tony Hillerman's oddly matched tribal police officers patrol the mesas and canyons of their Navajo reservation they join a rich tradition of Southwestern detectives In Crime Fiction and Film in the Southwest a group of literary critics tracks the mystery and crime novel from the Painted Desert to Death Valley and Salt Lake City In addition the book includes the first comprehensive bibliography of mysteries set in the Southwest and a chapter on Southwest film noir from Humphrey Bogart's tough hood in The Petrified Forest to Russell Crowe's hard nosed cop in L.A. Confidential

The Sheriff and the Branding Iron Murders Doris R. Meredith, Doris R. Meredith, 1986-08 Murder by Impulse Doris R. Silk Stalkings Victoria Nichols, Susan Thompson, 2000-09-20 Silk Stalkings When Women Write of Murder first published by Black Lizard Books in 1988 began more than fifteen years ago as the authors personal shopping list United by a common interest in crime and mystery fiction written by women and unable to find a reference source listing these titles the team of Nichols Thompson began to compile a list for themselves They have done it again the result is the remarkable Silk Stalkings More Women Write of Murder That the genre has grown enormously

since the first edition was published is obvious. The authors not only updated past references but have also searched out and introduced new women mystery writers. This book provides a comprehensive survey of series characters created by women authors in crime and mystery fiction from 1867 to 1997. The first half of the book categorizes 187 characters created since 1976 by profession, avocations, and inclination and discusses them in a frank, witty, critical voice. The second half consists of a master list alphabetically arranged by author's real name and cross-referenced by pseudonyms and a series character to author list. The depth of the authors' research is impressive and the detail is impeccable. The authors have been actively involved in the community of mystery writers for fifteen years, attending conferences and getting to know the authors of the books chronicled in Silk Stalkings. Nichols and Thompson provide scholars and fans alike with a source of long lost or forgotten treasures as well as what is currently hot in the world of women's mystery writing today. This extraordinary reference effortlessly blends engaging observations with useful data into a work that will continue the well-established tradition of Silk Stalkings.

Murder Most Public James T. Siburt, 2024-12-02 When Ted Harper, one of the wealthiest men in Bedford County, Tennessee, is shot dead in broad daylight on a Saturday afternoon in the main street of the small railroad town of Buckland Station, none of the townspeople, including the business associates he was allegedly meeting, come forward and admit to hearing or seeing anything. At first, it appears that the lack of cooperation or evidence will render the crime unsolvable. Then the dead man's politically connected family petitions the governor's office for assistance. A request is made to the Federal District Judge, and he responds by ordering US Marshal Ward Wilkinson and his Deputy Tom Seibert to Buckland Station to discover who killed the man and why. The marshals soon learn that Harper had a deserved reputation as a violence-prone, unethical predator and that those who might have wanted him dead number in the dozens. Was this a private quarrel? An organized conspiracy? Vigilantism? Further complicating the marshals' task is finding a wanted bank robber and murderer residing in the area. The answers the lawmen seek reside in the dark corners of the community behind barriers of long delayed justice, hatred, and a defiant attitude of justified revenge, and the exposure of the well-hidden truth might be fatal to anyone disturbing it. Ward and Tom will have to overcome these barriers as they work their way through a slew of complex characters and scenarios to find the killer(s) and bring them to justice.

Crime and Criminal Justice in American

Society Randall G. Sheldon, William B. Brown, Karen S. Miller, Randal B. Fritzler, 2015-06-22 Today's headlines vividly illustrate the importance of understanding aspects of the criminal justice system too often ignored. While the second edition of Crime and Criminal Justice in American Society includes the most recent statistics on the police, courts, and corrections, its provocative current examples also spur critical thinking about justice in the United States. The authors offer an alternative interpretation of criminal justice rarely presented in traditional textbooks or by the media. They encourage readers to examine their beliefs about crime, punishment, and the law. Discussions in the chapters about how African Americans, Hispanics, whites, women, juveniles, the rich, and the poor experience crime and the criminal justice system contribute context for understanding different viewpoints. The poor and minorities are the most likely to be caught in the net of criminal justice, but inequities have consequences for everyone. Reflection on various perspectives provides helpful input for assessing attitudes and for becoming actively involved with issues that have significant consequences. Eighteen thoroughly revised chapters present historical backgrounds, theories, and emerging issues. New to the second edition is a chapter on veterans involved in the criminal justice system. Affordable, succinct, and engaging, this textbook presents the key concepts of the criminal justice system at less than half the cost of many competing textbooks.
