Mallarmé Rosemary Lloyd, 2005 Upon his death in 1898 the French Symbolist poet Stephane Mallarmé b 1842 left behind a body of published work which though modest in quantity was to have a seminal influence on subsequent poetry and aesthetic theory He also enjoyed an unparalleled reputation for extending help and encouragement to those who sought him out Rosemary Lloyd has produced a fascinating literary biography of the poet and his period offering a subtle exploration of the mind and letters of one of the giants of modern European poetry Every Tuesday from the late 1870s on Mallarmé hosted gatherings that became famous as the Mardis and that were attended by a cross section of significant writers artists thinkers and musicians in fin de siècle France England and Belgium Through these gatherings and especially through a voluminous correspondence eventually collected in eleven volumes Mallarmé developed and recorded his friendships with Paul Valéry André Gide Berthe Morisot and many others Attractively written and scrupulously documented Mallarmé The Poet and His Circle is unique in offering a biographical account of the poet's literary practice and aesthetics which centers on that correspondence

Shimmering in a Transformed Light Rosemary Lloyd, 2005 Although much has been written lately on the links between painting and writing little or no attention has been paid to those moments in literature when the narrative stops to allow for the description of those objects we associate with still life Rosemary Lloyd's book shows how fascinating this overlooked area is how rich in suggestions of class race and gender how much it indicates about human pleasures and about the experience of space and time Lloyd focuses on the last two centuries particularly at points marked by the irruption of images of contingency and rapid change into the fields of art for example the year of the Terror in French history the decade in which Haussmann's politically driven transformation of Paris led Baudelaire to write his great modernist poem Le Cygne and on or about December 1910 the date to which Virginia Woolf attributes a revolution in the definition of literary character Lloyd's central concern lies with the ways in which the still life written or painted both evokes and attempts to deal with the sense of contingency While she makes frequent reference to paintings she focuses above all on written still lifes particularly those moments when novels pause to address the subject matter of still life a bowl of fruit a hat rack a desk cluttered with pens and papers in ways that invite contemplation of other and broader cultural domains She draws on literary and art works from Australia England France Germany Ireland Italy and the United States

S. Eliot Simone de Beauvoir and Jean Paul Sartre and Franklin and Eleanor An Extraordinary Marriage The Still Life in the Fiction of A. S. Byatt Elizabeth Hicks, 2010 This book explores the ways in which English writer A. S. Byatt's visual still life descriptions of real or imagined artworks and what are termed oververbal still life scenes such as laid tables rooms and market stalls are informed by her veneration of both realism and writing It examines Byatt's adoption of the Barthesian concept of textual pleasure showing how her ekphrastic descriptions involve consumption and take time to unfold for the reader thereby highlighting the limitations of painting It also investigates the ways in which Byatt's still life demonstrate her debts to English modernist author Virginia Woolf French writer Marcel Proust and the Pre-Raphaelite

Brotherhood of nineteenth century Britain A number of Byatt TM s verbal still lifes are read as semiotic markers of her characters particularly with regard to economic status and class Further her descriptions uniting food and sexuality are perceived as part of her overall representation of pleasure Finally Byatt TM s employment of vanitas iconography in many of her portrayals of death is discussed showing how her recurring motif of Keats TM s oeOde on a Grecian Urn teases out the still life TM s inherent tension between living passion and oecold artwork Bibliographie der französischen Literaturwissenschaft Otto Klapp,2007 Publications of the Modern Language Association of America ,2005
