Saving A Continent Towards A Sustainable Future:

The Victorian Naturalist, 1997 Why Women Will Save the Planet Bloomsbury Publishing, 2018-03-01 Big cities don't have to mean a dystopian future. They can be turned around to be powerhouses of well-being and environmental sustainability if we empower women. This book is a unique collaboration between C40 and Friends of the Earth showcasing pioneering city mayors' key voices in the environmental and feminist movements and academics. The essays collectively demonstrate both the need for women's empowerment for climate action and the powerful change it can bring. A rallying call for the planet for women for everyone. Development Co-operation Report 2024 Tackling Poverty and Inequalities through the Green Transition OECD, 2024-07-17 Faced with multiple priorities including the imperative of accelerating the global green transition, development co-operation providers are at risk of losing sight of a silent yet devastating crisis that has been unfolding even before the COVID-19 pandemic: the alarming increase of poverty and inequalities in low and middle-income countries. And yet, not only are ending poverty and reducing inequalities at the core of their mandates, both are also essential to meeting their broader ambitions in terms of sustainable development worldwide. What opportunities and risks is the climate priority posing for the fight against poverty and inequality? Can just green transitions reinvigorate development agendas? How can international development co-operation policy and finance help? Bringing together the latest evidence, data and insights from governments, academia, international organisations and civil society, the OECD Development Co-operation Report 2024 provides policy makers with concrete ways of delivering on their commitments to improve the lives of billions while fostering green just transitions around the world. Sustainable Development in Africa Walter Leal Filho, Rudi Pretorius, Luiza Olim de Sousa, 2021-07-09 This book serves the purpose of documenting and promoting African experiences on sustainable development, which encompasses both formal and non-formal education. Sustainable development is very important to Africa, but there is a paucity of publication which documents and promotes experiences from African countries. Due to their complexity, the interrelations between social, economic and political factors related to sustainable development, especially at universities, need to be better understood. There is also a real need to showcase successful examples of how African institutions are handling their sustainability challenges. It is against this background that this book has been produced. It is a truly interdisciplinary publication useful to scholars, social movements, practitioners and members of governmental agencies and private companies undertaking research and/or executing projects focusing on sustainability from across Africa. As

African nations strive to pursue the UN Sustainable Development Goals it is imperative to cater for the information needs seen across the continent and foster the dissemination of experiences and case studies which may support both on going and future efforts The scope of the book is deliberately kept wide and we are looking for contributions across the spectrum of sustainable development from business and economics to arts and fashion administration environment languages and media studies
